THIRD ARMY DRIVES INTO THE MOSELLE

Vanguards of Tanks and Infantry Reach Within Two Miles of Fortified Center of Saarburg

CANADIANS IN GOCH

By JAMES M. LONG
Paris, Feb. 21.—(P)—Lt. Gen. George S. Patton, Jr., hurled an armored division today through a hole gouged in the central German front in the Moselle-Saar triangle and the tanks smashed five and a half miles forward toward Trier through disorganized resistance.

Goch, strongly fortified road center between the Rhine and Meuse (Maas) rivers in the north, finally was captured by Scots of the Canadian First Army which gathered momentum in its offensive toward the Ruhr valley, 16 miles away.

South of Patton's Third Army, the U. S. 7th Army advanced to within plain sight of Saarbrücken, less than three miles away. Lt. Gen. Alexander M. Patch's shock troops invading the Saar again captured half a dozen border towns and broke into Forbach, large French rail center which is almost a suburb of devastated Saarbrücken. The Americans seized heights overlooking historic Spieren and the Siegfried line fortifications.

Patton, swiftly capitalizing on the breach in German defenses carved laboriously by Maj. Gen. Harry J. Malony's 94th Division, sent his tanks clanking to within seven miles of Trier and two of Saarburg, both keystones of the German defense system in the Moselle valley leading to Coblenz and Mainz on the Rhine. Dispirited Germans surrendered by the hundreds.

All along a 55-mile assault front, the Third Army was slamming the Germans back on their heels. The onslaught was in the Eifel mountains from the Prüm area to below the Moselle. Vanguards were within a mile of the northern fringe of the rich Saar district coal and steel region.

In the north, the last enemy suicide squads were cleared from the ruined road center of Goch, once a town of 13,500 and still the center of eight military highways.

The Scots thrust on 600 yards southwestward. Goch is eight miles south of captured Kleve, terminal of the original Siegfried line, and 17 miles southeast of the Dutch city of Nijmegen, whence the Canadian offensive started.

Beyond the once-bristling town lies a small open plain in which no

Fighting Vicious On Italian Front

By LYNN HEINZELING

Rome, Feb. 21.—(P)—American troops striking over Italian mountain terrain so forbidding that at times they used ropes to scramble up the steep slopes, have captured Monte Belvedere and several villages on the peaks west of the Pistoia-Bologna highway.

The Germans fought back viciously, but all counterattacks were repulsed and the fighting for the dominant heights continues an Allied communiqué said today.

Once before Allied troops had held the commanding, 3,500-foot peak of Monte Belvedere, but the Nazis recaptured it last Nov. 29 and had held it since.

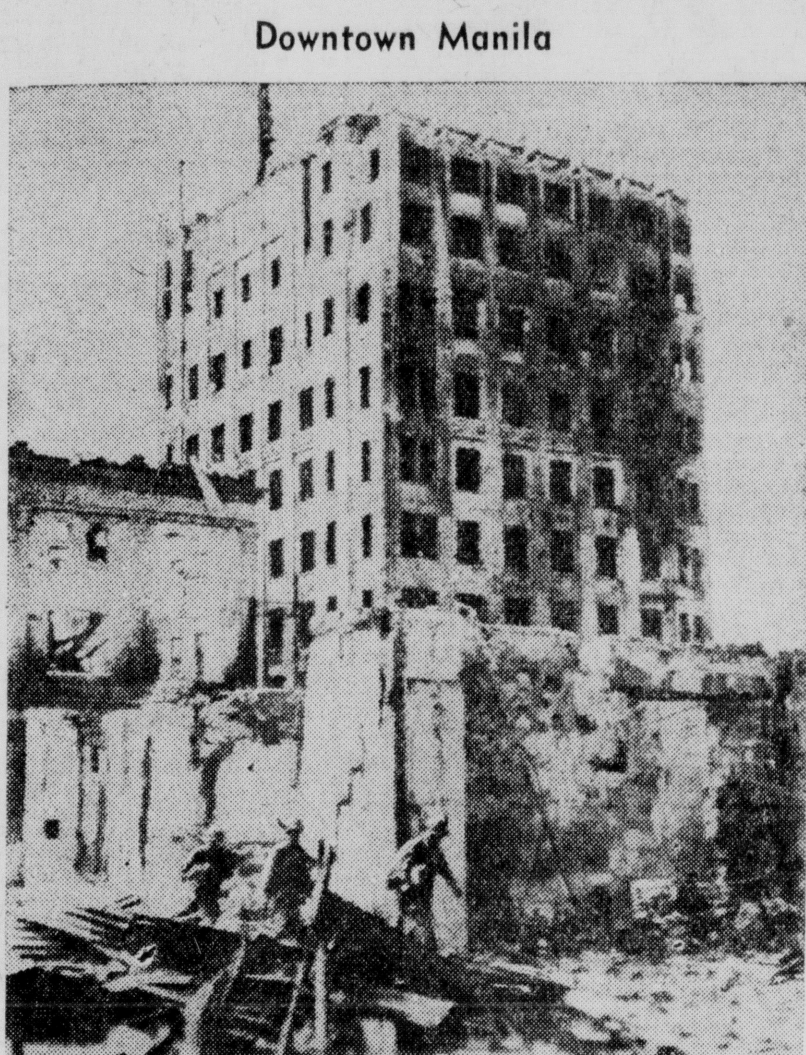

Patrols continued to be very active on the rest of the Italian front, with no changes of positions reported. The Germans still were peppering Allied positions with propaganda leaflets.

Few Exemptions Expected In Nationwide Midnight Curfew

Washington, Feb. 21.—(P)—"Primary responsibility" for administering the national midnight curfew for entertainment places today was formally assigned to the War Manpower Commission.

War Mobilization Director James F. Byrnes, who gave the job to WMC, said that agency "will also be prepared to give any interpretations or explanations which may be requested."

Officials stated meanwhile that WMC Chief Paul V. McNutt will not have his enforcement machinery ready for 48 hours. The curfew, which is effective

Assembly Passes Legislation Advancing Date For Primary

Harrisburg, Feb. 21.—(P)—The general assembly passed legislation today advancing the 1945 primary election from September 11 to June 19 to accommodate Pennsylvania voters in uniform.

Under the new primary date, petitions of candidates may be circulated on March 10 and must be filed by April 9.

Final action was taken in the senate, which approved unanimously a group of house-passed bills changing that and other provisions of the election law to make it easier for G. I. Joe and Jane to vote at both primary and municipal elections this year.

All but one of the measures were sent to Governor Martin for previously assured approval. One bill amended in the senate was returned to the house for action on the change.

The legislation exempts members of the armed forces from a requirement for personal registration as voters and authorizes their registration by any person having the necessary information. The bills also set up machinery for application for ballots, their return and counting.

The soldier vote legislation, drafted by a bi-partisan conference of assembly leaders with Governor Martin, was the second major administration proposal enacted affecting members of the armed forces.

The assembly previously enacted an administration plan to help returning veterans buy homes or farms or go into business through loans guaranteed in part under the federal G. I. bill of rights.

Agreement of rival party leaders on the vote proposal was the first result of Governor Martin's bi-partisan conferences to speed major legislative needs.

KRESS HEADS ART GALLERY

New York, Feb. 21.—(P)—Samuel H. Kress, Pennsylvania-born art collector and 5-and-10 executive, has been elected president of the National Gallery of Art. A native of Cherryville, Northampton county, Pa., Kress got his business start with small shops in Nanticoke, Pa., and Wilkes-Barre. His election was announced by the gallery's board of trustees, headed by Chief Justice Stone of the supreme court.

ALP HIDEOUT FOR HITLER IS ATTACKED

Rocket-Firing Thunderbolts Make First Assault On Private City of Berchtesgaden

RAIL YARDS DAMAGED

By the Associated Press
Rome, Feb. 21.—Rocket-firing Thunderbolts of the U. S. 12th Air Force made the first attack of the war yesterday on Hitler's private city of Berchtesgaden, the mountain hideout high in the snow-capped Bavarian Alps, it was announced today.

The planes, sweeping in from Italian bases, pumped rockets into rail yards at low levels, ripped rail tracks, cars and locomotives and smashed at other targets in and near Berchtesgaden, which may be the most heavily fortified spot in all the Reich. They ran into intense flak and small arms fire.

While there was no official comment on the attack, it was speculated that the surprise strike was directed against the movement of top priority personnel, supplies and Nazi files from Berlin.

The assault fit into a pattern with two attacks yesterday and today from British and French bases by the U. S. Eighth Air Force on the packed rail yards and locomotive repair shops at Nuremberg, 90 miles north of Munich, the center of former Nazi propaganda spectacles and an important rail junction. The extraordinarily heavy concentration of traffic at Nuremberg led to speculation that it might be a movement of government offices from Berlin, or a buildup for the defense of Vienna.

Hitler's retreat is at Obersalzberg (upper Salt mountain) on the edge of Berchtesgaden. The only previous attack on the immediate vicinity (other top Nazi leaders have homes in the area, too) occurred several months ago when a force of American heavies hit Salzburg, Austrian border town just across from Berchtesgaden.

The Thunderbolts knocked out a locomotive and eight rail cars in the attack. At towns nearby they set fire to two passenger trains, destroyed a troop train estimated to have 150 soldiers aboard, and destroyed or damaged nearly 50 rail cars, some loaded with tanks. (There was no indication that Hitler's retreat at Obersalzberg itself was attacked.)

Draft Quotas Will Be Hiked Director Says

Harrisburg, Feb. 21.—(P)—"Slightly" higher induction quotas and a "considerable higher" number of pre-induction physical examinations are in prospect next month in Pennsylvania, Col. Mc. I. Smith, deputy state selective service director, said last night.

Pre-induction physicals will be increased "due largely to the number of 2-C's—farmers—to be examined under the directive from War Mobilization Director James F. Byrnes," Smith said.

Philadelphia draft boards were ordered to call up 8,500 men for March pre-induction physicals—against 5,000 in February.

Board spokesmen said the quotas would necessitate wholesale cancellation of deferments for men under 30 now classified as 2-A or 2-B, and also would affect "a sizeable group over 30."

The Philadelphia Record quoted unnamed officials as saying they had been advised that a new order which would result in induction of "many more" men up to 35, was in the making.

Maj. Gen. Lewis B. Hershey, national selective service director, has informed draft boards, the newspaper said, that they must "triple the induction of men over 30."

BIENNIAL RECEPTION AT EXECUTIVE MANSION

Harrisburg, Feb. 21.—(P)—Governor and Mrs. Martin were hosts to state senators and representatives at a biennial reception in the executive mansion last night.

With the Martins in the receiving line were Lt. Gov. and Mrs. John C. Bell, Mr. Harvey Taylor, president pro tempore of the senate, and Mrs. Taylor, and Ira T. Fiss, speaker of the house, and Mrs. Fiss.

Draw String Pulled Tighter On Sugar

Washington, Feb. 21.—(P)—The OPA pulled the draw string on the sugar sack even tighter today with a cut in allotments for home canning.

For the 1945 canning season housewives will be able to obtain a maximum of 20 pounds for each member of the family up to eight instead of last year's 25 pounds with no limit on the number receiving an allowance.

And unlike last year, when five pounds of the 25-pound maximum for each member of the family could be obtained by merely presenting a sugar stamp No. 40, all allotments must be obtained from local rationing boards.

Nuernberg Is Again Blasted By Bombers

London, Feb. 21.—(P)—More than 1,200 American bombers escorted by 650 fighters today attacked rail and industrial targets at Nuernberg for the second consecutive day.

More than 900 U. S. Flying Fortresses blasted the Nuernberg yards yesterday. These yards are filled with trains, possibly loaded with the records and effects of the German government ministries believed moving out of Berlin.

The strike by the British-based American sky fleet today dovetailed with an attack by Italy-based 12th Air Force planes against similar targets in and near Adolf Hitler's mountain hideout at Berchtesgaden yesterday.

Nazi broadcasts reported spearheads of two American formations were over Thuringia and Franconia, indicating another deep penetration of the Reich, possibly in support of the Russian armies.

Today's assault, carrying into daylight the ninth successive day of the fierce aerial punishment of Germany, followed a 1,200-plane strike by the RAF against 750 heavies, pummeled Dortmund, key communications center for the western front. Refugee-crammed Berlin was struck twice. Other formations broke off in several directions, striking the much-bombed rail center of Mannheim, two oil refineries south of Dusseldorf on the Rhine, and other targets.

BRIDGEHEAD ALONG IRRAWADDY ENLARGED

Kandy, Ceylon, Feb. 21.—(P)—British 14th Army troops have enlarged further their bridgehead on the left bank of the Irrawaddy river in the Myimnu sector 35 miles southwest of Mandalay, a Southeast Asia Command communiqué said today.

Two counter-attacks were repulsed in the Singu bridgehead 40 miles north of Mandalay, where "satisfactory" progress was made.

BOY SHOTS BROTHER DURING AN ARGUMENT

Pell City, Ala., Feb. 21.—(P)—A 12-year-old son of a couple with war plant jobs was shot to death yesterday following an argument with his 14-year-old brother, Officer Tal Rich reported.

Rich said the boys were in dispute over "something about the pressing of a pair of pants."

The slain boy, Donald Gene Hollis, was shot through the heart with a .38 caliber pistol.

Snow Shovels Are Brought Out Again

By the Associated Press
Snow shovels, temporarily put aside when recent thaws removed much of a two-month accumulation of snow, were in use again today after a snowstorm blanketed most of Pennsylvania.

Sweeping in from the midwest late yesterday, the snow curtailed travel on numerous highways, forcing road crews to work through the night cinderling and clearing principal arteries.

The thick, wet fall eased early today as the weatherman predicted higher temperatures and intermittent rain.

Two inches of fresh snow covered several counties in northwestern Pennsylvania, where much of the old ice and snow remained from previous storms.

In eastern Pennsylvania, the storm was heaviest in the Lancaster area, but Reading, Harrisburg, Allentown and Wilkes-Barre residents also dug themselves out of the fall.

FRANKFURT IS UNDER SIEGE OF RED GUNS

Zhukov's Forces Temporarily Slash Lifelines of Fortress Town Toward Capital

DIRECT DRIVE AT NEISSE

BULLETIN
London, Feb. 21.—(P)—Red army troops have captured the Polish town of Czersk, 17 miles northwest of Chojnice and 45 miles from Danzig, Premier Marshal Stalin announced today. The city, on the main Danzig-Stettin railroad, was taken by troops of Marshal Konstantine K. Rokossovsky's Second White Russian army.

London, Feb. 21.—(P)—Marshal Gregory Zhukov's troops, fighting to encircle Frankfurt on the Oder 38 miles east of Berlin, have "temporarily slashed the city's lifelines to the capital," a German military commentator said today.

The fortress town on the west bank of the Oder is under siege and the constant hammering of Russian artillery and bombers, said the report from inside the city by Transocean War Reporter Hans Amtz.

Marshal Ivan Konev's First Ukrainian Army drove steadily westward today toward the Neisse river stronghold of Guben and the southern end of Berlin's eastern defense wall along the Oder.

Advancing as much as 10 miles through a heavily-forested region in the face of persistent German counter-attacks, Marshal Ivan S. Konev's troops yesterday captured the hamlet of Schögen, eight miles east of Guben and 57 southeast of Berlin.

Four miles to the north Konev's light flank swept through Neudorf, on the southern bank of the Oder five miles west of captured Crossen, and rolled on toward the point seven miles away where the Oder is joined by the Neisse before (Turn to Page Nine)

Persecution Is Charged By Film Comic

Hollywood, Feb. 21.—(P)—A proposed legislature investigation to determine whether Charles Chaplin should be deported as an undesirable alien has been attacked by the film comic as "political persecution."

Senator Langer (R-N. Dak.) introduced the legislation Feb. 15, directing the attorney general to make an inquiry of the white-haired 55-year-old English-born actor-producer, recently made defendant in sensational moral and paternity charges. The bill was assigned to the senate immigration committee.

In a statement to the press, Chaplin declared that "political persecution" of him has been going on for four years, "ever since I made an anti-Nazi picture, 'The Great Dictator,' in which I expressed liberal ideas."

"On account of this picture, I was called to Washington for questioning as a war monger by Senators Clark and Nye," the statement continued. "This investigation fell through after Pearl Harbor."

"The persecution, however, increased after I dared to speak on behalf of Russia, urging the Allies to open a second front. For this I was bitterly attacked by reactionary columnists, using every device to discredit me with the public."

Britain Wants Greater Role In Pacific War Talks Reveal

Washington, Feb. 21.—(P)—Evidence that Britain wants a greater role in the war against Japan is found here in the disclosure of new Roosevelt-Churchill discussions on Pacific fighting.

President Roosevelt, on his return journey from Yalta, met the British leader at Alexandria several days ago. He wanted to meet General Charles de Gaulle at Algiers immediately afterward, but the French president, having been left out at Yalta, snapped a curt "no thanks."

Mr. Roosevelt also conferred with three kings—Farouk of Egypt,

3,650 Casualties In First 48 Hours Adm. Nimitz Says

Tank-Led Marines, Holding Firm Control of Over Third of Island, Begin Developing Drive Against Motoyama Airdrome

SLOW ADVANCE MADE UNDER HEAVY ENEMY FIRE

By AL DOPKING

U. S. Pacific Fleet Headquarters, Guam, Feb. 21.—(P)—Approximately 3,650 Marines were killed or wounded in the first 48 hours of the battle for Iwo Jima, Adm. Chester W. Nimitz announced today as he reported the Leathernecks made general advances ranging up to 1,000 yards on the island's central air field.

Nimitz listed approximately 3,500 enlisted men and 150 officers as casualties—killed, wounded and missing. He said 3,063 of the wounded have been evacuated, indicating about 600 were killed or missing.

There was no estimate of Japanese losses.

Tank-led Marines, holding firm control of more than a third of the island, began an enveloping drive against the fighter field, known as Motoyama No. 2. The Fifth Marine Division by-passed the southern tip of the field in a flanking move, preparatory to striking at it from the west, while the Fourth Division pushed directly toward the center of the airdrome.

Every yard of the advance was made under a steady hail of Japanese machine gun, mortar, rifle and rocket fire over wet, rocky slopes criss-crossed with revetments, pillboxes, blockhouses, and reinforced sniper holes. Mines and tank traps were plentiful.

The marine drive stemmed from the Motoyama Airfield No. 1, the island's prized bomber field captured yesterday noon 30 hours ahead of schedule.

About 700 yards separate these two fields, the only completed air strips on the island, 750 miles south of Tokyo.

Other Devil Dogs crawled 100 painful yards up the slopes of Suribachi volcano, a fortress mountain on the southern tip of the island from which Japanese guns dominate every inch of the dismal ground the Yanks control.

Victorious Japanese defenders attempted one small tank supported nighttime counterattack and almost constant infiltration, both coordinated with mortar, rocket and artillery barrages.

All attempts were broken up by the Marines, with the aid of illuminating flares fired throughout the night by the American invasion fleet lying offshore. The flares exposed virtually every Japanese attempt at nighttime maneuvers.

Naval guns, masses of marine artillery, carrier planes, tanks and individual marine units combined in pulverizing Japanese defenses which cover the entire volcanic island. But the Marines still face an uphill fight.

The northern mass of the island rises about 50 yards above Motoyama Airfield No. 2, which lies on a plateau. The Marines had to climb slopes to approach it from any direction.

They inched forward 200 yards north of Motoyama Airfield No. 1, also known as Suribachi, before they had to dig in as enemy rockets and artillery shells poured down from overlooking positions.

Those Marines were on the north flank of a wedge which has been driven across the narrow south (Turn to Page Nine)

WAR PRISONERS TAKEN DEEPER INTO GERMANY

New York, Feb. 21.—(P)—Richard F. Allen, vice chairman of the American National Red Cross, says that American prisoners of war in Germany are being marched deeper into the Reich through temperatures as low as 30 degrees below zero without proper clothing.

Allen, in charge of insular and foreign operations for the Red Cross, told members of the organization's Brooklyn branch yesterday that "those of you who have someone in the German prison camps must be ready for bad news."

Allen said the Red Cross is working to get the prisoners out of the camps as quickly as possible.

SIEGE TACTICS BEING WAGED AGAINST JAPS

MacArthur Announces a Week of Fighting in Manila Has Cost the Enemy 24,000 Men

PULVERIZE INTRAMUROS

By FRED HAMPTON

Manila, Feb. 21.—(P)—Medieval siege tactics in modern guise were employed against trapped Japanese garrisons in Manila's thick-walled intramuros and on Corregidor today as Gen. Douglas MacArthur announced the past week's fighting has cost the Japanese 24,000 casualties.

Cannon and howitzers gnawed steadily at the 40-foot-thick outer wall of the intramuros to cut an entranceway for tanks and infantry seeking to eliminate the cornered enemy and liberate an estimated 7,000 civilians.

The Yanks could pulverize the intramuros and everybody inside with air power, but they are trying to save the civilians. Arthur termed this a possibly futile gesture. He was of the opinion the Japanese already have killed most of the civilians.

Gen. Douglas MacArthur said in his communique today that the enemy garrison in South Manila, now compressed into an area only 1,200 yards by 800, "is acting with the greatest savagery in his treatment of non-combatants and private property."

On Corregidor, both entrances of the main tunnel were blocked by explosives and Yanks swarming over the topside poked through rubble in search of the ventilation vent. When they find it the Japanese will be completely sealed off, their doom certain.

Liquid fire and explosives were killing the few Japanese who managed to dash from the few remaining crevices in banal charges.

MacArthur, describing the fighting in Manila as still bitter, underscored its severity by announcing enemy casualties of 92,000 for the six weeks of the Luzon campaign as against American casualties of 12,929—2,676 killed, 245 missing and 10,008 wounded.

This showed 24,000 Japanese and 3,246 American casualties in the last week alone.

Work - or - Jail Bill Shunted Into a Siding

Washington, Feb. 21.—(P)—The work-or-jail bill was shunted into a siding today while the senate military committee worked out a substitute measure strengthening the War Manpower Commission's authority to correct labor shortages.

The committee reluctance—obvious for the last two weeks—to accept the house-approved bill with its drastic penalties crystallized yesterday in a 12 to 6 vote to take up a substitute offered by Senator O'Mahoney (D-Wyo.) and five other senators.

Even a memorandum from President Roosevelt expressing "hope that legislation embracing the principle of the May bill can be speedily enacted" failed to swing a committee majority who say they are convinced enactment of the house bill would impede rather than aid war production.

U. B. Pastors Attend Two Day Retreat

Rev. R. H. Eggleston, pastor of the United Brethren church, with other ministers of the Youngsville District, returned last evening from Bradford, where they attended a two-day retreat on evangelism conducted by the Erie Conference.

Among those in attendance from this section were Rev. J. L. Strong, Youngsville; Rev. Leo McGaughey, Grand Valley; Rev. H. H. Atkins, Chardlers Valley; Rev. H. Ray Harris and Rev. T. Bergman, Corry. Rev. H. F. Reagle, of Bear Lake, was unable to be present.

About 45 ministers of the conference, representing parishes in northeastern Pennsylvania and southeastern New York, gathered for the retreat, at which Bishop Ira D. Warner, from the west coast, was leader and principal speaker. Mr. Eggleston was in charge of the devotional period for last night's closing service.

Turkeys Scarce; Local Farms Prepare For Big Crop In 1945

Have you tried to buy a turkey lately? If you have had a yen for one of the big bronzed fellows you have discovered that there "just ain't no such thing." Warren county farms are denuded of birds for the market and the local markets are unable to buy any of the birds except on an order placed far, far in advance.

But next winter it is going to be a different story. There should be plenty of birds provided of course that Uncle Sam doesn't take all of the birds for the men who are doing the fighting for the state at home. Today 400 White Hollander poulters (and it was a heck of a job to find that name) arrived in the city for the Barlow Turkey farm. They are one day old birds and hailed from Linesville. Raising of the birds is a big job and the turkey raiser must know his turks to get a good showing of fine birds for Thanksgiving.

Benj. Mathis, who raises some handsome birds is due to receive 800 poulters from State College on March 5. They will be taken to his farm and made ready for the festive Thanksgiving tables. These will be the streamlined birds which have been produced by breeding at State College. They have heavy breasts with plenty of white meat and are supposed to average about 10 pounds.

At the Saunders Turkey Farm there are 300 hen turkeys that are now laying in good shape. The farm now has 700 eggs which will be hatched and every effort made to raise the birds for the fall market. Other eggs will be hatched as they are produced by the hens.

And from Harrisburg comes the following news dispatch relative to the turkey situation for 1945: Pennsylvania's 1945 turkey production should be the largest in history, the State Agriculture Department predicted today.

Last year's output of 1,285,000 birds was the highest total, but the Department said turkey growers and farmers indicated they would raise 257,000 more this year, a 20 per cent increase.

Heavy January snowfalls may delay preparations for spring farm activities, the Department said, because severe weather and blockaded roads interfered with delivery of equipment and supplies.

Williamsport Lays Plan To Get Industries

Harrisburg, Feb. 21—How one progressive community is planning for industrial expansion after the war was revealed today by the State Department of Commerce.

Through the resources and initiative of its business and community leaders, Williamsport, Lycoming County, has taken action through the Community Trade Association to create a fund for the "acquisition and construction of modern industrial floor space in an ideal Williamsport."

The fund, which will start with a $100,000 appropriation and grow according to need, will enable new and desirable industries to locate and thus assure Williamsport continued industrial expansion. C. E. Noyes, manager of the Williamsport Community Trade Association told the Department.

"Not only will the new industries create many employment opportunities but they will aid our present industries by either using their by-products or supplying them with raw products or parts," Noyes said.

Noyes pointed out that new industries will help absorb some of the 9200 men and women from the Williamsport area now serving in the armed forces and help take up the slack of those now employed who will be replaced or released.

Noyes cited Williamsport's industrial employment figures which show a gain of more than 100 per cent in eleven years. In 1932 there were 8000 persons employed while in 1943 the peak of 16,300 was reached. At the present time some 15,000 are employed.

LIVING MEMORIALS
Harrisburg, Feb. 21 Miles Horst, Pennsylvania Secretary of Agriculture, in an address in Philadelphia, before the Pennsylvania Nurserymen's Association recently suggested that cities, towns and civic groups desiring to erect monument to World War II veterans, consider "living memorials" such as parks, recreation spots, rose gardens, laurel or dogwood plantations.

YM BIBLE STUDY CLASS
The book designated for study tomorrow night in the Y. M. C. A. Adult Bible Class is the Gospel of St. John. The class will begin at 7:30 p. m. sharp, with Rev. Arthur B. Fowler as teacher. Dr. Fowler's thorough knowledge of the Bible and his excellent ability as a teacher have made a most favorable impression upon the many who have attended the class to date. Any interested man or woman is eligible to attend, whether or not he or she has attended a previous session. The folder distributed before the opening of this class stated that there would be no session on February 22. This has been changed so that next week's session will be omitted instead, because of the Preaching Mission service.

Rotarians Hear Talk On Peace Given By R. R. Young Monday

One of the most thought inspiring talks that has been given before the Warren Rotary Club in a long, long time was given Monday by Robert R. Young, of the High School faculty. Mr. Young is a student of world affairs and his talk was one that roused much comment from the clubmen following its delivery.

Mr. Young presented a Four-Square plan for peace. 1st. That peace can only be maintained if the peace loving nations of the world band together for that purpose. 2nd—Measures for the second group fall into two classes:

(a)—To prevent war, negotiation, mediation, conciliation and arbitration.

(b)—To suppress war, force through the Council.

3rd—To build peace, stone by stone.

4th—To erect an edifice of peaceful international relations. The fourth is dependent upon the other three.

In the formation of peaceful agencies we as citizens are challenged to understand it, discuss it and do something about it.

There are two methods of change in the world:—Evolution moving slowly and making adjustments as we go along. Revolution, if the rate is too rapid society cannot keep pace and disruptions of every sort from the petty individual wrong doing to the greatest of international crimes.

In the world today we can see evidences of both methods at work in social, economic and political relations and in the development of ideals in each of their fields. Think of how many centuries it must have taken for nations to develop from individuals through families, clans, tribes with fathers, patriarchs, and chiefs at the head until the present day England or America and the end is not yet.

Mr. Young briefly traced the rise of the American government and touched on the efforts for international co-operation. A comparison of the League of Nations was made with Articles of Confederation in our own country. The Dumbarton Oaks meeting also received attention. Under the Dumbarton Oaks plan the purpose is to effect an organization that would remedy the weaknesses and defects of the preceding League. They were: Only a league allowing withdrawal from membership on two years notice. No teeth in it. Lacked support of the stronger nations noteworthy the United States, many members belonged only as a matter of convenience. The United Nations plans a Security Council, Assembly (now only advisory to investigate and recommend.) And finally the Secretariat to pass upon and enforce.

Mr. Young was warmly congratulated at the conclusion of his talk by the members in attendance.

ON DEAN'S LIST
Students in the Warren area whose names are in the Dean's List at Edinboro State Teachers' College for the first semester are Louise Johnson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clinton Johnson, of Irvine, and Joyce M. Weldon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. K. A. Weldon, of Grand Valley.

SELLING FARM TRACTORS
The Office of Surplus Property has announced a huge sale of farm equipment and construction materials and equipment which will be held at Middleburg, Utah, next week on February 28th. The list includes all kinds of heavy farm tractors, together with crawler tractors, concrete paving machinery, air compressors, power pumps, concrete mixers, and almost every type of the kind. It is one of the largest sales being held now throughout the country where big war jobs have been completed.

JACKSON IS NO. 1
A telephone communication from State Senator Chapman, at Harrisburg, yesterday gave the word that Leonard Jackson, of this city, a polio victim is listed as No. 1 patient for the Blossburg hospital. The Blossburg hospital has been equipped with the most modern fittings for the treatment of the disease and Senator Chapman has been at work endeavoring to get Jackson entered there as a patient. His work has evidently been successful.

CRIBbage MATCH PLAYED
Cribbage teams from the Moose, Elks and Vets Clubs have opened a Round Robin match for cribbage honors. The tourney will continue for six weeks and promises to be an interesting affair. The first match was played at the Vets Club last evening between the Moose and Vets and the Moose won by a score of 60 to 48. Matches will be played every Tuesday evening and next week the Vets play the Elks at the Elks Club House.

NOT TO ABBREVIATE
State employees have received notice signed by Gov. Edward Martin that henceforth there shall be no abbreviations used when writing the name of this state. Pennsylvania must be spelled out in its entirety. This is in line with the campaign to carry the name of the state over the nation in full. Too often the abbreviation Pa. or Penn'a is used and this is not as the State Department of Commerce would have it. Residents of the state will do well to follow the example of the state employees.

AGAIN HONORED
Mrs. Gunnard Lundmark, 102 Quaker road, has received word from Marjorie Webster College in Washington, D. C., that her daughter, Mary Ann, has again been placed on the Dean's List. She is a very active member of her graduating class, being its president, and as a member of Student Council. Miss Lundmark is also singing in the trio which is part of a unit formed by Marjorie Webster College to tour the hospital service and USO centers of the capital area.

GOVERNOR'S MANSION

South Carolina's governor's mansion at Columbia is clothed in history and romance that links the old and the new Souths. Built in 1855, it was originally the officers' barracks of the Arsenal Academy. It escaped the fire that swept part of the city that year and came through the War Between the States unscathed. Simple in construction, it is cooled by dense foliage of the beautiful trees surrounding it. War Bonds have maintained a defense against injury to this historic gem and will guard it safely to peace.

WHY QUINTUPLETS use this great rub for SORE THROAT COUGHS and COLDS

Wonderful for Grown-Ups, Too! Ever since they were tiny tots—when the Quintuplets catch cold—their chests, throats and backs are immediately rubbed with Musterole.

Musterole gives such blessed prompt relief because it's more than just an ordinary "salve." It's what so many Doctors and Nurses call a modern counter-irritant. It not only relieves coughs, sore throat, aching chest muscles due to colds, makes breathing easier—but it actually helps break up congestion in upper bronchial tract, nose and throat.

And Musterole is so much easier to apply than a mustard plaster. White, Stainless. Just rub it on! "No fuss. No muss with Musterole!"

IN 3 STRENGTHS: Children's Mild Musterole, Regular, and Extra Strong.

Sgt. Arthur One of Four To Get Star

Four men of the 2nd Ranger Infantry Battalion, part of a group from their Ninth Army unit which fought off numerically-superior enemy forces for 48 hours without food, water or medical aid, have been awarded Silver Stars for their gallantry in action during the War Department has announced.

One of the quartet is S/Sgt. Lester G. Arthur, son of Clyde J. Arthur, of Akeley. The citation for the award tells how they were detailed to protect a battalion command post and aid station in France last June 6th, how they were cut off from help and how they successfully resisted powerful attempts of the enemy to overwhelm them.

Mr. Arthur has received the following copy of the citation, identical for each of the four men:

"From June 6 to June 8, 1944, while on outpost duty, the above named enlisted men protected the battalion command post and aid station. The determination and initiative displayed by these men while performing this duty set an example for the remainder of the company which was engaged in repelling three counterattacks by a numerically-superior enemy. They held tenaciously to their position against heavy enemy fire, thus permitting the safe withdrawal of their men. When finally cut off from the main body, and although without food, water or medical aid for a period of 48 hours, and despite being greatly outnumbered, these heroic men continued to harass the enemy, and refused to surrender. On June 8, 1944, the enemy was forced to surrender, making it possible for these men to rejoin their unit. Their gallantry and courage reflect great credit upon themselves, and are in keeping with the highest traditions of the military service."

Gunner From Pittsfield Is In Cited Unit

It is learned in a special dispatch from England that S/Sgt. Nick L. Mameliek, Pittsfield gunner, is a member of the 392nd bombardment group, a Liberator unit recently cited for "distinguished and exceptionally outstanding performance of duty" on 200 missions.

Commanded by Col. Lorin L. Johnson, of Payson, Utah, the group has been overseas for more than a year. The 200th mission was made on Armistice Day, the 100th on D-Day. The citation, issued by Maj. Gen. William E. Kenner, of the Second Bombardment Division, reads:

"During this period of 200 missions, the 392nd attacked 120 targets in Germany and 80 targets in enemy-occupied territory despite adverse conditions and inclement weather at times... overcoming fierce enemy fighter opposition on many occasions in order to reach assigned objectives."

Targets attacked by 392nd Liberator include Berlin, Gotha, Ploetz, Bremen, Hamburg and other objectives in Germany, France, Norway, Holland, Belgium and Poland.

HOME FROM PACIFIC
Craig Retterer, gunner's mate second class, is home for a 22-day leave from the South Pacific, visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Retterer, 16 South Pine street. Assigned to a battleship, this is his first leave home in 20 months.

Mrs. Carl E. Anderson, Rogers Mills, has received word that her husband, T/S Anderson, is located on the island of Oahu in the Hawaiian Islands, serving with an anti-aircraft artillery unit.

Complicated, Eh?

Word comes from the naval mine warfare school at Yorktown, Va., that Henry Christensen, East Fifth avenue, has been advanced from seaman first class to petty officer, yeoman third class. P.O. Christensen only recently arrived at Yorktown after a year's duty with Ship's company Band at Camp Peary, Va., SeaBee center.

Pvt. Ernest M. Breed, stationed at Camp Livingston, La., is spending a short furlough with his parents Dr. and Mrs. E. M. Breed, North Warren.

According to word received here from the army air field at Casper, Wyo., Col. Merle G. Fox, son of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Fox, 7 Monroe street, is a nose turret gunner on a B-24 heavy bombardment crew now in its final stage of training at that base. Following this period of training, he and his crew will be sent overseas to a combat area to take up the fight against the enemy.

RECEIVES AWARD

Word has been received that Cpl. Walter A. Fredericks, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Fredericks, 23 Locust street, with MacArthur in the initial invasion of the Philippines and now on Leyte, has been awarded the Combat Infantryman's Badge. At present, Cpl. Fredericks is hospitalized on the island, convalescing from an illness. He recently had the unexpected pleasure of a meeting with a former neighbor, David Ristau, whom he had not seen in a couple of years. Ristau, who was admitted to the same hospital because of illness, has also written his family concerning the meeting and the fine visit which resulted. They both write they are much improved in health.

Cpl. Font Is Awarded Star

Cpl. Anthony W. Font, whose mother, Mrs. Lucy M. Font, resides at 1313 Pennsylvania avenue, west, has been awarded the Bronze Star for "heroic achievement in connection with military operations in Germany."

News of this decoration comes in a special report from headquarters of the 104th Division in Germany.

Cpl. Font is a construction foreman in Company B, of the 329th Engineer Battalion of the Timberwolf Division, now slugging its way through Germany.

He attended school here and was employed by the Pennsylvania Railroad Company before entering the army.

Ens. Blackman Is Promoted

Mrs. Charles C. Blackman, Liberty street, has received word that her husband, Charles Clark Blackman, has been promoted from ensign to the rank of lieutenant, junior grade. Lt. Blackman, son of Mr. and Mrs. S. D. Blackman, Jackson avenue, is on an L.S.T. somewhere in the South Pacific.

Lt. Blackman entered the service in March of 1943, going to Fort Bragg, N. C., as an officer's candidate in the army. Leaving the army in June, 1943, he received his commission as an ensign, United States Naval Reserve, October 15, 1943, and reported to Hollywood, Fla., for his indoctrination course. He then went to Harvard University, Cambridge, Mass., for a communications course; from there to Solomons Beach, Md., and Panama City, Fla. He has been on sea duty since August.

Lt. Blackman was graduated from Cornell University, Ithaca, N. Y., and before entering the service was employed in the First National Bank, this city. His wife and small daughter, Suzanne, are living at 400 Liberty street. He has one brother, Lt. Sidney W. Blackman, also on sea duty somewhere in the Pacific.

HONORABLE DISCHARGE
James Mansfield, 46 Railroad street, has been honorably discharged from the United States Marine Corps after ten years of service in that branch. His brother, Eddie, he reports, is in France and another brother, Dick, is somewhere in the Pacific.

IN ADMIRALTY GROUP
Carolyn Reynolds, of Youngsville, has received word from her husband, Paul J. Reynolds, petty officer third class, that he is now on duty in a fleet postoffice in the Admiralty Islands in the South Pacific. He would like to hear from his friends and his address may be had from his wife or from his mother, Mrs. W. B. Reynolds.

IS PETTY OFFICER
Word comes from the naval mine warfare school at Yorktown, Va., that Henry Christensen, East Fifth avenue, has been advanced from seaman first class to petty officer, yeoman third class. P.O. Christensen only recently arrived at Yorktown after a year's duty with Ship's company Band at Camp Peary, Va., SeaBee center.

Did you know these things about YOUR SYLVANIA NEIGHBORS?

THEY LIKE THEIR TOWN...

As who wouldn't! This fine, typically American "home town" of Sylvania is a swell place! It has good churches, schools...stores and recreation facilities. It's warm, friendly, neighborly!

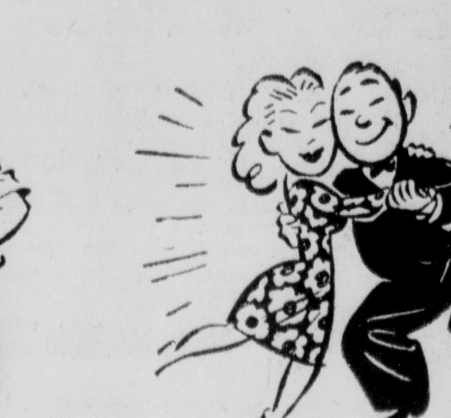

AND THEIR COMPANY!

Yes, your neighbors like the stability and prestige they find at Sylvania. They're proud to work for an organization that's progressive—all in lighting and electronics.

THEY LIKE EACH OTHER...

Sylvania people get along well together. Probably you know some of them yourself, know from your own experience that, almost without exception, they try to be good neighbors.

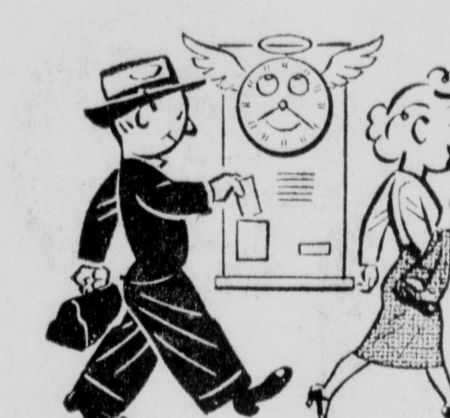

HAVE LOTS OF FUN!

Folks at Sylvania get to know each other and have many good times. There's always something going on—dances, picnics, ball games, bowling matches, hobby clubs and other fun.

WORK IS INTERESTING...

Applying the science of modern lighting and electronics to every-day living is new, important. It demands skill, precision. It's an interesting challenge to your friends at Sylvania!

HOURS ARE GOOD!

Sylvania employees have good working hours. When summer rolls around and good times call, there's vacation with pay for all who've been at Sylvania at least six months!

THEIR PLANT IS EFFICIENT...

Time goes faster, the job is easier for men and women of Sylvania—because they work in a well-run plant. Supervisors "know their stuff," equipment is the best—kept in A-1 shape!

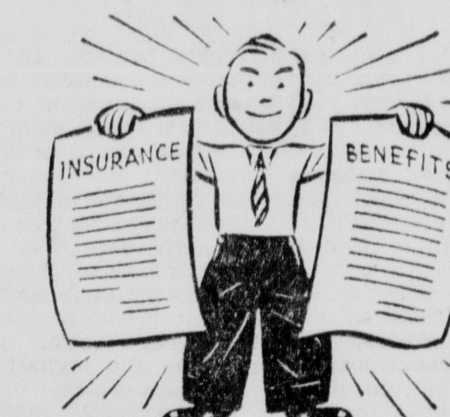

AND—IT'S SAFE!

Sylvania's plant is light, clean, airy; equipped with modern safety devices and guarded by stringent safety regulations. Your Sylvania neighbors have won many National Safety Awards!

THEY "CASH IN" ON IDEAS...

Every month, many Sylvanians collect cash for ideas on how to improve efficiency and save vital materials. Such ideas are always welcomed and when used, they're paid for!

ENJOY EXTRA SECURITY...

Everyone who joins the Sylvania Employee's Association receives life insurance protection plus hospitalization and sickness benefits—all contributing to health and happiness!

GET RETIREMENT INCOME...

People at Sylvania have helped in planning for later years. Sylvania's profit-sharing Retirement Plan makes dollars saved now provide a steady income when retirement age is reached.

BUILD FOR THE FUTURE!

Your neighbors at Sylvania make products that create better sight and sound—products which, after the war, will become more and more a part of American home life and industry!

Presbyterian church was held at the home of Mrs. Scott Stuart, for a luncheon meeting Thursday with nineteen present. Mrs. Allan Frank, mite box secretary conducted the devotions and mite box opening. Mrs. J. A. McIntosh, presided in the absence of the president.

Complicated, Eh?

Mrs. C. S. Nuesom reported for the nominating committee and the following officers were elected: President, Mrs. McIntosh; vice president, Mrs. C. L. Veness; second vice president, Mrs. Nuesom; secretary, Mrs. Scott Stuart; treasurer, Mrs. Frank; secretary of literature, Miss Josephine Ricker.

Mrs. R. S. Cumming was given a delightful surprise party Friday evening at the home of Mrs. A. A. Grant when forty two persons met there to present Mrs. Cumming with a thank-you badge in appreciation of her work for the Girl Scouts and Brownies in the past.

Susan Summerson gave a poem of Thanks and Dorothy Miller presented the badge with Mrs. Cumming making a gracious response. Mrs. Correll, Scout executive of Warren led in the singing of Scouting songs. Refreshments were served by the N. B. Club who are sponsors of the Girl Scouts with Mrs. Allan Frank assisting. Those present included Mrs. Correll and son David of Warren.

Troop 17, of Sugar Grove, had a Parent's Night Wednesday, in connection with the monthly family supper of the Methodist church, in the church dining room. Mrs. F. A. Schoonover, Mrs. Travers Stohlberg, Mrs. Carleton Foss, Mrs. Roy Briggs and Mrs. Frank Richmond were the women from the church who decorated the tables in red, white and blue, using crepe paper and candles in crystal holders and served the tureen supper. Twenty Scouts and forty parents and friends were present at the delightful affair. Following the supper the following program was presented: Parade of Colors, Pledge of Allegiance, Song America, Welcome by F. A. Schoonover, who acted as chairman. Travers Stohlberg, troop Scoutmaster, explained the program for our troop and of First Aid. Bandage demonstration, Fox Patrol, Leonard Briggs, patrol leader. Removal from live electric wire, and resuscitation by artificial respiration, Flaming Arrow Patrol, Malcolm Allen, leader. Application of leg splint and coat stretcher, by Flaming Eagle Patrol, Guy Summerson, leader. An Investiture service for Ronald Barrett, who became a Tenderfoot Scout. Second class badges were awarded to Sherman McGure and John Stuart, Jr., by Scott Stuart Jr. The troops charter for 1945 was presented by Chester Seymour, Warren County Scout Executive, who also spoke briefly on Scouting and presented credentials to the following troop committeemen, F. A. Schoonover, chairman, Scott Stuart, Jr., secretary and treasurer; Gerald Miller, program and activities director; Rev. Carleton Foss, educational and training director; Roy Briggs, health advisor and Wesley Barlow and Travers Stohlberg, Scoutmasters. This evening program was the culmination of a successful observance of National Boy Scout Week, which included a window display of a camp at John Abbott's Store, the recruiting of two new Scouts, the observance of Scout Sunday by attendance at the Methodist church in a body Feb. 11th and wearing of Scout uniforms all week.

BACKACHE, LEG PAINS MAY BE DANGER SIGN Of Tired Kidneys

If backache and leg pains are making you miserable, don't just complain and do nothing about them. Nature may be warning you that your kidneys need attention. The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking excess acids and poisonous waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 3 pints a day.

If the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filters don't work well, poisonous waste matter stays in the blood. These poisons may start nagging backaches, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pen and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there's something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from the blood. Get Doan's Pills.

WAKE UP YOUR DIGESTION BELOW THE BELT Without Stomach Relievers

To Get Happy Relief from Gassy, Bloating, Tight-around-the-Waist Misery You May Need This Kind of Laxative Help

When most food leaves the stomach, it is by no means fully digested. It is in the 25 feet, or more, of intestines, that the greater part of digestion is done. Among the vital digestive juices that work in the intestines, the liver bile is one of the most important—especially vital to the digestion of fats. Unless the liver bile flows efficiently, digestion of fats slows down. Food decays in bowels. You may get constipated and feel full of gassy, bloated, indigestion misery. That's when you need Beecham's Pills. They help get the bile flowing freely, which helps you digest and eliminate in Nature's happy way. Ask your druggist for gentle, all-vegetable Beecham's Pills today. Caution: Use only as directed. For

MR. CHURCHILL'S SHAPKA

Prime Minister Churchill, who has just returned to London from a historic mission, wore a new hat at the Crimea Conference. It was a becoming hat—a shapka, it was called—made of black lamb's wool. Though said to have been a present from Canadians, it was of Russian design. And it looked warm and comfortable, as well as handsome.

Many Americans must have felt a twinge of envy when they saw the picture of Mr. Churchill wearing it. And it may have occurred to them, as it did to us, that hat reform in this country is long overdue. There is plenty of fruitless agitation for more sensible men's business attire, especially in summer—a sort of Four Freedoms, from coats, neckties, collars, long sleeves.

But the reformers seem to shy away from hats. This is a pity, for men's hats are both impractical and unbecoming. They blow off in the wind. They offer scant warmth in wintertime where warmth is needed. They afford little protection and less comfort in summer.

And the monotony of style and color. There is no better material for a bitter soliloquy on our regimented life than the parade of headgear on one's fellow men as they file along a city street—snap brim after snap brim, all snapped precisely at the same angle; crown after crown, creased in conventional uniformity.

It's enough to make a man start a revolt. But of course no man will. No, he will cast a longing look at Mr. Churchill's shapka, a dashing, rakish hat that also keeps the ears warm and sits lightly on the brow. Then he will go forth as usual in the same old felt, still looking uncomfortable, unflattered and unimaginative.

State Senator L. E. Chapman, who has a wide local reputation for humanitarian efforts, is rapidly gaining that reputation over the entire state. He has recently had passed a resolution raising the pay for charity work in the state's hospitals from $3.50 to $4 per day; has been active in a program for betterment of the institutions housing unfortunate wards of the state and his work to secure cancer clinics and a research laboratory for the people of Pennsylvania is winning him new acclaim in the press of the state.

The board of education of Grace Methodist church is taking a forward step that will be watched with interest in setting up a regular schedule of activities for boys and girls of all ages, to be staged in the large and well-equipped gymnasium in the basement of the edifice. The project offers a suggestions for congregations of other churches in town that have similar facilities.

Now come predictions of a coal strike in spring. It's too bad the operators can't mine their own business!

LENTEN SERMONETTE

Rev. Stephen R. Schieb, Salem Evangelical Church

"TOWERING OVER THE WRECKS OF TIME"
The focal point of the Lenten season is Calvary. In solemn mood the Christian Church fixes its eye upon the Cross. There, "Towering over the wrecks of time," it earnestly proclaims its eternal message of God's infinite love in the very home of Hate. The uninitiated look agnostic and perplexed.

There were three crosses on Calvary, each declaring its own message. The one proclaimed the fate of the impenitent—a fate which still vexes our impenitent world. Refusing to recognize its own guilt and neglecting its day of salvation, our world goes on to its doom with a word of comfort from the Saviour of mankind, and dies without hope.

A second cross demonstrates that "whosoever liveth and believeth in Him shall not perish, but have everlasting life." Even the criminal, the person who has lived his life away from God, shall find mercy when in penitence he turns to the Saviour who died for him also. What two worlds the Very-God-of-very-God and the Very-Man-of-very-Man hung and still hangs between!

It is the third cross, however, which towers over the wrecks of time and in which we Christians glory. It is the cross which brings life and immortality to both crosses between which it stands. This Cross supplies the answer to the most important of all questions: "What shall I do to be saved?" Through the ages and to all people it declares with an affirmative certainty: "Believe in the crucified Lord Jesus Christ and you shall be saved!" Ages and people have tried it—and confirm.

When I survey the wondrous cross
On which the Prince of Glory died,
My richest gain I count but loss,
And pour contempt on all my pride.

T-H-O-U-G-H-T-S

Now we exhort you, brethren, warn them that are unruly, comfort the feeble-minded, support the weak, be patient toward all men.—I Thessalonians 5:14.

In 1935

The Warren Street Railway Company has filed a tariff by which the rate for transportation of motor vehicles on flat cars between Glade and Sheffield has been cancelled, leaving no rates in effect.

Warren's first Community Drive will start on March 23. Although much has been said previously about starting a Chest, nothing was ever done about it, but the constitution and by-laws have been submitted to an appointed committee.

Formal announcement of the second Warren Dollar Days was made by the Chamber of Commerce. Merchants are planning large sales.

Fish and Eggs Help Stretch Meat Supply

Again it is necessary for homemakers to make their meat ration reach as far as possible.

Many homemakers in Warren county have been successfully using meat alternates for some time, among the dishes they have been serving as the main food for dinner and which are favorites with their families are fish, cheese, egg, or dried bean dishes.

Some families still like meat once a day. To do this during periods of short supplies, they need to stretch what meat they get. Following are two recipes that are favorites with many homemakers. The first is a good meat alternate, the second a good meat stretcher.

Bean Loaf

1 cup dried beans, or 3 cups cooked beans.
1 cup soft bread crumbs.
1 egg, well beaten.
1 teaspoon salt.
1 teaspoon pepper.
3 tablespoons fat.
2 tablespoons minced onion.

Soak beans overnight. Cook until tender. Combine ingredients and turn into a buttered bread pan. If loaf seems too moist, add more bread crumbs. Bake in a moderate oven 25 minutes. Unroll in center of platter, slice, and serve with tomato sauce.

Casserole of Pork

2 cups canned or cooked pork.
1 teaspoon salt.
1/3 cup fat.
Few sprigs sweet herbs.
Salt.
6 small onions.
1 1/2 cups cooked macaroni.
1 large carrot.
1 green pepper.
1 apple.
1 sliced onion.
5 tablespoons flour.
2 cups pork stock.
1/2 teaspoon salt.
1/2 teaspoon pepper.
1 teaspoon mustard.

Cut lean meat in pieces for serving, sprinkle with salt, and cook in fat until brown. Place in casserole. Add onions cooked until tender, and cooked macaroni. Put in carrot, pepper, and apple which have been cut in shreds. To fat in pan, add one slice of onion and cook until brown. Add stock, salt, pepper, and mustard, pour over meat and vegetables in casserole, and bake covered for 1 hour.

Other recipes for making the most of the meat ration are given in leaflet 86, "Making Meat Go Further," which may be obtained upon request from Mrs. Thelma Prendergast in the Agricultural Extension office in the Court House.

OPA Demands Prosecutions For Violators of Various Rules

According to instructions from District Price Panel Coordinator, Dilworth Kennedy of the Pittsburgh District Office, which were read at the Warren Price Panel meeting Monday afternoon, violators of OPA rules in both Group 1 and 2, and 3 and 4 food stores will be prosecuted following further violations.

"For over two years OPA has been doing little more than educating the public. Now the situation is tightening up."

No one can say: "How about the other fellow?" for all violators will be brought into line, according to the new overall OPA plan.

Mr. Kennedy writes to the Warren Price Panel chairman: "An independent survey just made shows a much higher percentage of ceiling price violations in this area than in the 49 other areas of the United States."

"Your own food-check survey indicates with a few exceptions a continuous high average of price and posting food violations although you have been conducting a compliance survey for over a year."

In Group 1 and 2 stores the penalty for intentional violations is a minimum of $50.00, unintentional violations at the statutory minimum of $25.00 less refunds, according to Section 10609 of the Price Panel Manual. Third violations will be taken out of local hands, and be prosecuted directly through the Pittsburgh office.

The independent survey of Group 3 and 4 stores shows even greater percentage of sales over ceiling prices than Group 1 and 2 stores. Chain store violations found in the February food check, even without records of former price violations, will be sent directly to Mr. Kennedy at Pittsburgh for action.

"We have found a number of meat-grading violations in Warren," explained the price clerk at the meeting Monday. "But our instructions are that if the butcher does not mark grades on his meat, it is definitely a violation and subject to penalty, the same as if meat was being sold at over ceiling prices."

The OPA's program of ceiling prices and keeping a rein on inflation is an honorable thing—the whole being for our benefit. Without it we would now have chaos.

The saving of the price on sugar alone now as contrasted with World War I, is four times the cost of the entire OPA per year," explained one member of the local Price Panel.

Since the OPA has charged its policy of "education" to "prosecution" it was voted by Price Panel members to give some publicity to the "cracking down" on violators, so that the public would be informed ahead of time.

Vitamins Once a Day May Be Inadequate

By Mullen Drug Co.

Too many people believe that the rule which applies to some is sufficient for all. The use of vitamins is a case in point.

As a matter of fact, vitamins should be ordered by the doctor, and the quantity and quality specified. Any other procedure is apt to be the "hit or miss" plan and fail in hoped for results.

There are pharmaceutical firms whose products are of outstanding quality, and who maintain unceasing vigilance over the quality and potency of their products.

The doctor's advice, however, as to the quantity needed by an individual is important. Needs are as various as finger prints.

Consult your doctor about the use of vitamins. Purchase quality products from a reliable druggist.

The Big Three Conference

"Nobody sat at the head of the table." That comment completely expresses the unity of the Allied "Big Three" as they gathered at the huge round table in the Czar's former summer palace at Yalta, Crimea, and pronounced the death sentence of German militarism, Hitler and all his works. Among those in photo above are (1) Foreign Commissar Viacheslav Molotov; (2) Premier Josef Stalin; (3) Fleet Admiral William D. Leahy, Presidential Chief of Staff; (4) Secretary of State Edward R. Stettinius; (5) President Roosevelt; (6) War Mobilizer James F. Byrnes; (7) Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden; (8) Prime Minister Winston Churchill.

Public Library Having Another Of Story Hours

The Warren Public Library has announced the opening of its next series of community story hours for boys and girls on March 2nd. The story hour a week from Friday will be for the children in the first, second and third grades. The following Friday, March 9th, will be for boys and girls in the 4th, 5th and 6th grades.

Mrs. Betty Archibald has again been secured by the public library as the story teller for both groups. Because of the unusually large groups which have attended the Warren library's community story hours, an experiment was made during Book Week this year, which is being continued during the next series. The two group plan, with admission by free ticket, will be used.

Tickets may be secured at the circulation desk in the children's room. The juvenile department is open until eight o'clock in the evening, with the exception of Saturdays, when the library closes at six o'clock. Tickets were issued for the first time yesterday afternoon.

Grace Methodist Takes Forward Step In Recreation for Young People

Over 100 Grace Methodist church young people enjoyed the department dinner given by the board of education in the church dining room on Monday evening. Dinner was served by teachers of the youth division under the direction of Mrs. William M. Smith and Harry Summers led group singing at the table.

Following dinner the Loyalty Legion, an organization of all the young people of the church, was launched. Detailed organization and election of officers will take place at the March meeting of the

Aviation In Post War Period Topic Of Blue Stockings

Blue Stocking Club members held their regular meeting Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Brackett Ayers, with Miss Ethel Morris as assisting hostess. The president, Mrs. Robert Winger, conducted the business session and gave a brief review of interesting articles from The Clubwoman, federation magazine. Mrs. P. S. Tarbox presented several current events of interest to women and their position in regard to a large percentage of savings, investments and wealth of the country; and the need for women to give more study and thought to finances.

The main topic of the afternoon was "Post-war Aviation", given by Edward Walker, detailing the various types of planes and their uses. These, he said, would be much improved after the war, with increased speed and capacity of cruisers and transports through the use of 100 octane gas; ability of amphibious cruisers to land in small areas, especially with the new tri-cycle-type wheelbase.

He made his subject more interesting by application to Warren itself, which, he said, would probably develop a feeder-line service for Erie and Buffalo airports. Jamestown, he pointed out, is in a good position to be included in a scheduled air route. The speaker stated that he feels flying will play a very important part in lives of service men after the war, since many of them have been technically trained and have developed interest in flying. A general discussion and question period following has taken up most of the interest taken in his subject.

Tea was served by Mrs. Charles Moore and Mrs. Norbert Peterson from a table attractive with sweet pea decorations.

The next club meeting will be held March 6 at the home of Mrs. Edith Smith, with Mrs. Winger assisting and Mrs. W. R. Carlin in charge of the program.

Borough Teachers Association Has Enjoyable Party

Seventy members of the Warren Borough Teachers Association gathered in the YWCA activities building last evening for a dinner party and evening of games.

H. D. Harris, principal of Beatty school, acted as master of ceremonies for an informal dinner program and Harry Summers, instrumental music director, led group singing.

Ernie Paterson was in charge of decorations, assisted by Lauretta Dunkle and Elizabeth VanLuvane, and provided a very attractive setting of small cherry trees in blossom and a candlelight effect carried out in pink and green.

Mrs. Carl Hultberg was general chairman for the party and acted as hostess for the games which followed. Prizes were awarded as follows: Contract bridge, Edna Glasser and Mrs. Gerda Lawrence; auction bridge, Frances O'Neill and Mrs. Phyllis Stanley; five hundred, Mayme Marsh; other games, Mrs. A. F. Dunham, Miss VanLuvane and Mrs. Elizabeth Sheets.

Next social event on the group's calendar is the spring festival to be held some time the latter part of April.

group. Anne Hathaway will serve as chairman of the organization committee, assisted by members from several departments of the church school. Several projects were suggested and approved by the young people.

The church gymnasium will be open on the following schedule for use of these groups: Junior department girls, Tuesdays, 4:15 to 5:30; intermediate, senior and young people's department girls, Tuesday, 7:30 to 9:30; junior department boys, Thursdays, 4:15 to 5:30; intermediate and senior department boys, Thursday, 7:30 to 9:30. These gym periods, under competent supervision, begin this week. For the present, attendance will be restricted to young people having some active connection with Grace church in church school, church, Youth Fellowship, Girl and Boy Scout troops and Cub pack.

The Loyalty League will set up a social and game room in the Scout room for all Grace church youth beginning about the middle of March.

The young people set up a loyalty campaign for church, church school and Youth Fellowship attendance beginning March 4 and continuing through May 27.

The evening concluded with social games in the gym.

Many Working On Various Details Of Players Show

An unusually versatile cast and capable committees are busily engaged in readying "Mr. and Mrs. North", the Warren Players show scheduled for March 1 and 2.

Much time and thought has been spent in making this production as fine as possible and much credit is due to all of the people who have cooperated in every possible way. The large cast has been on hand for every rehearsal and Coach Fern Mostert is already congratulating them on their excellent characterizations.

Many workers are necessary to a successful opening night and each person is ready to do his or her job to perfection. Joe Acks is again heading the construction crew to erect the set that is to be Mr. and Mrs. North's apartment; Guinevere Knapp becomes an expert stage manager; Margaret Kroll is trained to handle the light switchboard; Mrs. A. M. Michel and Mrs. Richard G. Smith are supervising the costuming; properties are being gathered by Anne Krantz Hyatt, Gladys Youngs and a group of other Players members; make-up will be done by Joyce Erickson and Evelyn Knapp.

"Mr. and Mrs. North" is bound to be enjoyed by the Players Club audiences because it has everything that a play should have—mirth and mystery, romance and nonsense and lots of fun. You'll like Mr. and Mrs. North and sympathize with them through their trials and tribulations and you're sure to be surprised when the one "who dunt!" is finally found.

Mail orders are now being accepted for "Mr. and Mrs. North". Don't miss this Players Club presentation.

Legion Auxiliary State President Is Coming Thursday

Members of the Legion Auxiliary will have the pleasure and privilege on Thursday evening of greeting their state president, Mrs. Martin Eshleman, of Quarryville, near Philadelphia, when she joins the state commander of the Legion, W. J. Rhoads, for the official visit and party held here annually on Washington's Birthday.

The department head, elected to that office in Harrisburg last summer, richly deserves the position.

Having served the organization faithfully in many capacities. She has been its eastern director, state vice president, state chairman of legislative measures and Americanism, and has worked diligently with many other groups in furthering the organization's aims and principles. This will be her first visit to Warren.

Also coming for the party to-morrow evening, scheduled at 8 p. m. in the American Legion Home, will be Mrs. Collin Donaldson, of Pulaski, western vice president, paying her first visit to Warren; Mrs. R. W. Kennard, of Philadelphia, western director, who has been a frequent visitor here, and Mrs. Forest Shick, of Sheffield, president of the Inter-County Council.

Personal Paragraphs

Louis Eckland, 201 Dartmouth street, is home from St. Vincent's Hospital in Erie, where he has been a patient for the past five weeks, and is feeling fine.

James Conroe, of Tidouate, is still a patient in Warren General Hospital but is reported making good progress. His wife is just home from a four months' visit with a daughter in Los Angeles and a son, Capt. James Conroe, at Walla Walla Army Air Base; also with a nephew, Fred Fague, of the army engineers at Bonneville Dam in Oregon. Mrs. Conroe made the 3,000 mile trip from Walla Walla to Warren by bus, starting Monday morning and arriving in Warren the following Monday.

Miss "Billy" Reider, clerk in Sheriff Linder's office, is confined to her home, nursing one of the pesky colds that have afflicted many in the city.

Sheriff Linder, of Warren county, and a deputy, were visitors in this city yesterday in a further checkup on the fire at the Jack

Scott farm east of Columbus in which Mr. and Mrs. Scott and their son, Dean, perished. The officers say that the version of the fatalities published at the time appears to have been correct and that it is believed that the father, long in ill health, took the lives of the mother and son and then suicided after setting fire to the home. The investigation was said to have been completed yesterday—Corry Journal.

Miss Grace Young has returned from a visit with her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Charles B. Shortt, Northampton, Mass., and with friends in New York. At the latter place she visited Mrs. Ethel Hausman and daughter, Gloria, and Mrs. Elizabeth Naylor.

BY TOM WEST

YESTERDAY: Mike O'Shane comes upon Wacker's men stealing a herd of Turkey and Double O cattle and Viola Thornton orders her foreman and men to ride with the redhead. They succeed in getting back the cattle and breaking up Wacker's crew of cutthroats. Despite remaining doubts, the Turkey men at last begin to weaken on belief in O'Shane's guilt. As the redhead leaves them, he says "You ginks ain't heard the last of me yet."

Chapter 15

THE redhead leisurely jogged through the foothills back to his hideout. He reined up in a grassy glade, dotted with jack pine, to breathe his mount and roll a smoke. While the roan cropped grass, O'Shane shook the muslin into a paper. From habit, his alert eyes studied the trail. His interest quickened as he picked up the tracks of a shod horse. Sliding out of leather, he examined them closely. They were fresh, imprinted distinctly upon the soft earth.

"He ain't rode through more than thirty minutes ago," muttered the redhead. "Now who in thunder might that be?"

ARRIVING at his camp without sight or sound of the intruder, he unsaddled and staked the roan close by. As the sun slanted westward, he kept under cover. Instinct warned him that somewhere in the expanse of rock and brush around him an enemy lay concealed, silent and deadly, stalking him as stealthily as a cat stalks a bird.

In the gloom, O'Shane denuded a near-by mesquite of its branches and rolled them carefully in his saddle blanket. He placed the end of the ungainly roll against his saddle and dropped his Stetson on it. Then he removed his boots and placed them beside the saddle.

Satisfied, the redhead moved off into the shadows, stepping gingerly in his socks, squatted upon a boulder—and waited.

O'Shane figured an hour had passed, but there was no sign of the mysterious stranger. Then he realized that his pony had stopped cropping. Someone, or something had disturbed it.

Muscles tensed, the redhead waited. His eyes probed the shadows, glimpsed a darker shadow—which moved.

Almost imperceptibly, the shadow glided towards the dummy by the fire. A twig blazed up and died, and the watcher's eager eyes picked out the crouching form of a man, drifting forward as silent as an Apache, but Apaches did not attack at night.

Gripping the butt of his .45, O'Shane straightened. He saw the dull reflection of red fire upon a broad knife blade as it swept down in a swift arc... followed by a guttural grunt of surprise. Then his sharp challenge cut through the gloom, "Hist' em!"

THE knife thudded to the ground as the stranger's hands stretched high. O'Shane kicked dry sticks on to the fire. Cracking into white flame, they revealed the swarthy features and expressionless eyes of a husky half-breed. His high cheek bones, greasy black hair and long face reminded the red-head of Fleson.

Defly, with smooth skill, he pinioned the breed's arms; threw a loop around his legs and lashed them together. A shove, and the prisoner toppled over stiffly and helplessly on the ground, trussed tighter than any refractory steer.

O'Shane heaped more brush on the fire, unbuckled the breed's gun belt and wrenched it off. Then, thoughtfully rolling a cigarette, he hunkered beside the bound figure.

"How come you set out to stick me?" he asked, conversationally.

The breed's lips remained locked. O'Shane struck a match and applied it to the end of the cube of tobacco. His prisoner's eyes followed every move.

O'Shane drew until the tip glowed red. Deliberately, he removed the cigarette from his mouth and inserted the glowing tip inside one of the breed's broad nostrils.

With an anguished yelp the prisoner jerked his head to one side.

"Don't like it, eh?" taunted the redhead. "Well, there's plenty more to come, unless you loosen your yaws."

Frantically, the breed writhed and twisted, slobbering in agony as he desperately jerked his head from side to side.

With clenched jaw, his captor held him firmly.

"Stop! Don't burn!" choked the breed. "I talk. I talk!"

"So I figured," growled O'Shane. "So set you after me?"

"Wacker."

"To bushwack me?"

"He pay me five hundred gold for your body."

"Does he know I'm holed up here?"

"No, I track you."

"Where you from?"

"Me wolver, work for Double O."

"So you're Lobo, Fleson's brother? What's Fleson's game at the Double O?"

The breed shook his head.

"You asked for it!" warned O'Shane, drawing upon his smoke.

Dark, staring eyes distended in fear, the breed slobbered and whined.

"Guess you ain't on the inside," concluded the redhead regretfully, rising to his feet. "Well, you can stay there 'til sunup, then I'll figure what to do with your useless carcass."

At dawn he rode out to get the half-breed's horse. When he returned to camp he walked up to the ashes of his fire, glanced around for the coffee pot—and saw that his prisoner had vanished.

Four quick steps brought him to the spot where the breed had lain. Flattened earth, sprinkled with sharp shale, showed the outline of his body. The tangled rope lay on the ground. In one place it had been frayed through.

"Of all the slippery skunks!" swore O'Shane, searching hastily for the breed's gun belt. That was missing, too.

Labor Is Badly Needed on the West Coast

Our Army, waging a major campaign in the Philippines, must be kept supplied with thousands of tons of ammunition, trucks, guns and supplies if they expect to remain on the offensive. It is up to the American people to give their full support on the production line; to build, maintain and repair the hundreds of ships and thousands of planes that must be employed to land and support these armies. The demand for skilled and unskilled civilian labor at naval installations on the west coast is unprecedented, and as our invincible Navy swiftly and surely gains unchallenged command of the sea, we on the home front will be called upon in increasing numbers to back up that fighting Navy.

Representatives of the U. S. Civil Service Commission are stationed all over the country, easily accessible to interview those interested in immediate appointment as civilian workers at west coast navy yards. They are authorized to provide free transportation and meal tickets enroute to the place of duty and will arrange for housing in advance for the recruit and his family. There is a U. S. Civil Service Commission representative in Erie, Pennsylvania, stationed at USES, 502 Erie Trust Building. (You may contact any first and second class post office or United States Employment Service office for information on where to get in touch with your nearest Civil Service representative.) Those men not now engaged in essential war work of equal skill, and veterans, who are given preference in government employment, are urged to apply immediately.

Positions now open include mechanics, machinists, electricians and other trained workers to do vital jobs on warships being overhauled or repaired. Radiomen, as well as steel workers, sheet metal men, plumbers, steamfitters, painters and sandblasters and all allied skills easily adapt themselves to Navy Yard work. Helpers and laborers with little or no experience are as vital to the success of our future Pacific campaigns as skilled tradesmen.

Vacancies presently exist at the Puget Sound Navy Yard, Bremerton, Washington, Mare Island, Vallejo, California, U. S. Naval Drydocks, Hunters Point, San Francisco, Alameda Naval Air Station, Seattle Naval Air Station and Pocatello Naval Ordnance Depot.

ODT Gives OK For Men For Transportation

Information on manpower problems relating to personnel employed or needed by commercial motor vehicle operators is available through district and field offices of the Office of Defense Transportation, Earl J. Donor, District Manager of the ODT at Erie, today reminded truck, bus, local transit, taxicab and vehicle maintenance establishments.

Pointing out that manpower shortages are seriously affecting highway transportation Mr. Donor stated that digests of recent regulations issued by Selective Service and the War Manpower Commission are being made available to ODT regional, district and field offices for the assistance of various motor transport operators.

The digests include the most recent information on the classification of Highway Transport Industries and activities considered critical, essential locally needed or less essential and explain the effect of these classifications on occupational deferments and personnel recruitment.

Eagles Upset By Sheffield Quint, 41-30

Sheffield High School's Wolverines cagers turned in an upset victory over the Youngville Eagles last night on the Sheffield court, 41-30. The Bob Jewell crew failed to make good in the shooting department as the Wolverines outscored the Eagles in each period except the third.

Trubie and Eisenhauer were the big guns for the winners, Trubie dumping in five field goals and an equal number of fouls to total 15, while Eisenhauer dropped in a total of 12. For the Eagles, Smith and Welsh turned in 11 and 8 points, respectively.

The Sheffield quint carried an 11-7 lead at the first period mark and at halftime, held a 20-13 margin. The third stanza was nip-and-tuck, with both crews managing 7 markers apiece, but the Wolverines bounced ahead in the final period to outscore the Eagles 14-10. The Youngville aggregation defeated the Sheffield bunch by a 2-point margin earlier in the season on their own court.

Ex-Pitcher Praised In Farm System

Miami, Fla., Feb. 21.—(AP)—If Carl Hubbell wins a place in baseball history as a farm executive as well as a great pitcher, Eddie Brannick can—and probably will—say "I told you so."

The New York Giants' secretary sounded some words of praise today for the left-hander who became head of the club's farm system after his hurling days were over.

"He'll do as good a job as Branch Rickey or any of them have done," Brannick predicted. "He's going to be a big man. The fellow's got plenty of ability."

Brannick said that Horace Stoneham, Giants' president, is well satisfied with Hubbell's work.

"He's just the type of man that Mel Ott needed," the fast-talking secretary continued. "You know that he and Ott are very close friends, and were always together even before Mel became manager."

Evidence Of Dishonesty Not Revealed

By TED MEIER
 New York, Feb. 21.—(AP)—No evidence of dishonesty or corrupt dealings has been found in college basketball games played at Madison Square Garden, the department of investigation reported yesterday.

Commissioner Edgar Bronfman, who began a probe after the Brooklyn College gambling scandal broke on Jan. 29, asserted "although there have been vague rumors and intimations (of corruption) during each season that intercollegiate basketball has been established at Madison Square Garden x x x there is no evidence of any dishonesty culpable irregularity or corrupt dealings in the negotiations between the Garden corporation and City College of New York and Brooklyn College, or in the conduct of the games themselves or in the financial transactions resulting therefrom."

In addition, the 40-page interim report to Mayor Fiorello La Guardia declared that the "officials in charge of the games are according to unanimous opinion, of high character and incorruptible conduct."

Bronfman said "two instances of apparent attempted corruption of players" were disclosed in the testimony.

Investigation Of Game Commission Asked By Senator

Harrisburg, Feb. 21.—(AP)—A senate investigation of the state game commission is sought by Senators George B. Stevenson (R-Clinton) and James S. Berger (R-Potter).

They offered a resolution calling for a report by March 12, after presenting a complaint by the North-Central Division of Sportsmen's Clubs against the commission's declaration of an antlerless deer season in Cameron and Potter counties in 1943. The complaint asserted the open season was protected by sportsmen but that the commission rejected the protest.

Baseball Men Confer With Jimmy Byrnes

By BUS HAM
 Washington, Feb. 21.—(AP)—Baseball's representatives look into the transportation situation today following an apparently satisfactory conference on manpower with War Mobilizer Byrnes.

Ford Frick and Will Harridge, major leagues' presidents, will end their official business here in a talk with Col. J. Monroe Johnson, office of defense transportation director.

With spring training starting early next month, the two problems—manpower and transportation—are considered the sport's most pressing.

Frick and Harridge had little to say after a discussion with Byrnes.

They told reporters that "we merely laid our problems before him" in facts and figures.

Frick later added that "we talked manpower on a broad scale."

Bishop Continues To Lead League

New York, Feb. 21.—(AP)—Gale Bishop of the Fort Lewis (Wash.) Warriors went on a 127-point scoring spree in five games last week to take a commanding lead of 305 points in the high scoring race among the nation's service basketball quintets.

Competing in the Ninth Service Command's Northwest District tournament, Bishop tossed in 54 field goals and 19 fouls for his week's mark. Altogether he now has tallied 828 points in 34 games on 347 field goals and 134 charity throws.

In eighth place was Stan Szukala of the Army's General Hospital at Valley Forge. In 29 games he scored 193 field goals and 45 free throws for a total of 431 points.

TO HONOR H. S. CAGER

Members of the 1944-45 basketball squad will honor Saturday Bob Hammerbeck, veteran guard who leaves February 27 for military duty. Players, managers, and coaches will fete Hammerbeck following his last performance in the Warren Blue and White uniform on Friday night against Franklin.

The party will take in the showing of "Together Again," followed by a dinner at the Blue and White Restaurant.

Behind the Lines

Last Saturday night, two of the best officials in the section handled the Warren-Corry encounter, and one of them was a minister. Burns and Reverend Abele officiated the engagement, and very capably. After the game, Preacher Abele added that it was his fifth game of the week, just bringing to mind the serious shortage of good refs . . . Jamestown High School's cage crew now holds but a half-game lead over the Dunkirk quint, which toppled the Red and Green last Friday in an overtime affair, 51-49.

They have yet to play Silver Creek and Fredonia in the Lake Shore League, along with the Bradford Owls next Monday night. This time the story will be different. No victory for the Bracemans. . . . Speaking of Harold Brace, the Owl mentor, he had a tough time of it last Saturday night when Erie Academy raced to an early first period lead of 9 to 1. . . . Youngville's cage quint had won basketball-minded men call an "off-night" when they backed up against L. O. Eisenhauer's aggregation at Sheffield last evening. . . . If Warren succeeds in knocking off Franklin Friday night and Oil City Tuesday night to cop the Section Two laurels, the Massa-coached five will face the Sharpesville quint, the winners of Section 3, probably on the Farrell hardwood. For the past few years, Warren teams have had to make the trip to Farrell, a distance of some 60 miles, while the opponent found it necessary to travel but 2 or three miles. But it hasn't done any good, whatsoever, to do any barking about the matter. There seems to be a matter of money connected. Should the Blue and White emerge the victor in the Warren-Sharpesville clash, if they win Section Two, they would meet the winner of the Erie Tech-Millcreek fray. This game may possibly be played at Corry. . . . Lt. George Draut, former sports editor of the Meadville Tribune, has been awarded the Silver Star for his part in a bombing raid on Romanian oil fields last July. . . . He was later interned in that country after being shot down and was released when the Russians took over. . . . Fred "Red" Geisler has recently been re-elected president of the Erie County Sportsmen's League. . . . Ross L. Leffler, president of the Pennsylvania State Games Commission, has let it be known that the game commissioners are not advocating consolidation of the fish and game departments, but at the same time said that he is not opposing it. . . . One of the most stubborn New York Yankee players to be signed this year is expected to be George "Stuffy" Strumweiss, who had a great season at second base last season. With stomach ulcers it is doubtful that he will be plucked off by Uncle Sam.

SPORTS ROUND-UP

My HUGH FULLERTON, JR.

New York, Feb. 21.—(AP)—At least two college basketball teams that played in the Boston Garden this winter hinted that they'd like to return for a March tournament, but no dates were available, what with two schoolboy tournaments coming up. . . . Chances are they'll be starting one in another year or so—and maybe its just as well that no plans were made for 1945, since there seems to be a shortage of tournament-qualified teams. . . . Utah, N. C. A. A. winner last spring, has the real puzzle in the cage tourney setup. . . . The Utes expect to qualify for the national playoffs again and feel they owe something to the N. C. A. A. for picking them as pinch-hitters last year. But they feel they also may get a bid to the New York invitation event, which is more lucrative.

Today's Guest Star

Notre Dame's Ed McKeever hasn't signed with Fordham yet, but you can bet he'll be on the job when the Rams resume football. . . . Amateur hockey is drawing more dough in Washington than the pros used to, and that isn't a small lot. . . . Sixteen year old Jeanne Lehoucq of Tulsa, who already is on hand practicing for the national figure skating championships, represents the only ice rink in Oklahoma. . . . Barney Ross is writing a book on his ring and war experiences entitled "I'm a lucky guy"—and he isn't kidding. . . . A Toledo, O., bowling establishment has a rule: "Any bowler who leaves the premises for a drink is disqualified as a bowler for the remainder of the season." . . . Ohio doesn't permit serving liquor in bowling alleys, but most guys can get plenty of booze just by missing a couple of spares.

Service Dept.

Ex-Cardinal Terry Moore is leading hitter in two leagues in Panama. He has an even 400 in an Army league and 429 in the Canal Zone circuit. . . . Some of the guys attending the school for recon-tioning instructors at Fort Lebel, Wash., include baseballers Lloyd Dietz (Pirates), Phillies, Dodgers George Lacy (Red Sox), Bi Fuchs, Hy Chapple and Chuc Munday (from the minors), baxers Lew Hanbury and Franki Rubino and Ike Cheroff, 13-awar winner at Brooklyn College in Columbia. . . . Maybe those guys will learn to reconduct the current crop of 4-F athletes. . . . Earl Mitchell, former Indiana I. miler, now is in training with the marine war dog training course. . . . Well, the first thing a runner has to learn is how to take care of his dogs.

MEN AND WOMEN IN SERVICE

Russell Man Is In Service Unit Cited

According to a recent announcement by the commanding general of the 15th Air Force Service Command, Cpl. Leonard F. Russell, of Russell, is a member of an air service squadron which has been awarded the Meritorious Service Plaque for outstanding service in support of combat operations in Italy.

Servicing heavy bombers of the 15th Air Force in the hectic days when large scale daily missions were an absolute strategic necessity, the men of this squadron worked untiringly to keep an exceedingly high percentage of bombers on an operational status. Their efforts made it possible for our aircraft to strike hard blows at Nazi supply lines and industrial targets.

All members of the squadron may now wear the Meritorious Service wreath on their right sleeves.

Sgt. Irving Headlund arrived today from Camp Lejeune, N. C., for a short visit with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Headlund, 212 North Irvine street.

Friends of "Jimmy" Cruickshank, of North Warren, who is undergoing his boot training at Sampson, N. Y., have received word that he is a member of the swimming team there and also has a place in the choir, where the voice he used in singing end songs in the North Warren Civic Club minstrels is now rising at the Sunday services.

Patton's drive along the Moselle was threatening the compact coal and steel treasures of the Saar district, which also was endangered by the increasingly aggressive American Seventh Army 35 miles to the south.

Patton was eight miles deep in Germany along the Moselle. He was beyond or within the Siegfried line along his entire 50-mile assault front.</

Home At Bear Lake Burns To Foundation

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Whiteley at Bear Lake was completely destroyed by fire about three o'clock Monday afternoon.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Whiteley are understood to have been at their work in the plant of the Aero Supply Mfg. Co. in Corry when the fire was discovered by neighbors.

Bear Lake is without phone service but a call was sent in from the nearest farm house that could be reached and the owners of the property left Corry at once. Calls were also sent to Panama and Sugar Grove and the fire departments of both of those towns responded but the run required such a long period that the home was completely destroyed by the time the equipment had arrived.

Neighbors had succeeded, however, in carrying most of the furniture, with the exception of a small amount on the second floor, from the burning home. No wind prevailed at the time and no other buildings in the village were endangered.

JULIA AUGUSTA CROUCH

Mrs. Julia Augusta Crouch passed away at her home in Willow Creek Friday, evening, February ninth, at seven twenty-five o'clock, after a ten days' illness, following a heart attack.

Mrs. Crouch was born in Newton, Warren county, on May 6th, 1861, the daughter of Levi Pierce and Augusta Main Pierce, who were pioneer settlers of Eldred township, Warren county.

She was of a large family, the following having preceded her in death: Albert Broughton, Jerry Pierce, Ellen Almira, Luther Avery, and Levi.

At an early age she moved to Garland, Pa., where she attended the Garland schools.

She was a brilliant student, and apt in writing poetry and essays. She resided in Garland until her marriage to Emory DeWitt Crouch of Dougall, Pittsfield township, when they moved to Sanford Hill, and later to Dougall.

Her husband's lumbering activities brought her into McKean county, where she has since lived, for the past forty-six years.

Having been reared in Christian homes, themselves, where Christian principles and tolerance were taught, Mr. and Mrs. Crouch established in their own home the same piety.

Mrs. Crouch was a devoted wife and mother, and her refinement and charming personality endeared her to all who were privileged to know her.

She was energetic and unselfish, her hands always outstretched in assisting others.

Mrs. Crouch had an optimistic outlook on life and ever believed in an eternal life beyond, with her loved ones and her Savior.

One of her favorite Bible verses was "Set your affection on things above, not on things on the earth."

She will long be remembered by her relatives and friends for her consideration and kindness to all with whom she came in contact.

Those left to mourn her loss are three daughters, Miss Eva V. Crouch, at home; Mrs. William J. McDermott of Willow Creek, and Mrs. Edith A. Houghwot of Pomona, Calif.; and one son, Earl DeWitt Crouch, Amarillo, Tex.; one grandson, Earl DeWitt Crouch, Jr., and four granddaughters, Margaret Radspinner, Los Angeles, Calif.; Harriett Houghwot, Buffalo, N. Y.; Jo Anne Crouch, Amarillo, Tex.; Geraldine Crouch, Chicago, Ill.; one sister, Mrs. Lucretia Rosen, Jamestown, N. Y., and one brother, L. Jackson Pierce, Youngsville; also four nephews, Carl Rosen, Erie; Hugh Pierce, Shawnee, Okla.; Harold Pierce,

Stray Leaves From Notebook Of Reporter About Town

Gene Waid father of the Good Roads movement in this county dropped into the office yesterday and while here informed us that once upon a time Horace Greely spoke here. It was in September 1872 when Greely was a candidate for President. He spoke from the top of the portico of the Carver House amid a drizzle of rain. Louis Geigerich a small boy at the time held an umbrella over the candidate to protect him from the rain and when Greely had finished he slipped Louie a quarter and gave him the famous bit of Greeley advice "Go west, young man."

A number of relatives and friends from away were in attendance at the funeral.

She was laid to rest in the family plot in Willow Dale cemetery, near Bradford.

MRS. ADA RHOADES

Funeral services for Mrs. Ada Rhoades were held at 2 p. m. Sunday at the home of Mrs. Almer Long, 214 Davis street, Youngsville, conducted by Rev. Dwight Jack, pastor of Youngsville Methodist church. Two selections were read from "Death and Resurrection." Interment was made in Garland cemetery, with the following acting as bearers: Almer Long, Francis Boland, Ray Welch, Herbert Welch, John Schwab, Robert Long, Robert Cramer and Neil Rhoades.

Those who attended the services from away were Louie Welch, Mr. and Mrs. John Schwab, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Welch, Waterford; Mr. and Mrs. Ray Welch, Mrs. Jessie Flynn and daughter, Mrs. H.

Mr. Berger—If this winter of daily continued snow fall was back in those horse and cutter days and time where bigger and better bobs were every lad's prized possession, there would be every night after school a coasting jamboree. The automobiles did away with this pleasure of which we have thoughts, so it just can't be done now. Sad but so.

Of these elongated sleds, whether home-made or from the factory with side runts to which the girls could cling, the merit was in runners and their surface speed.

Would not, during such a winter, Old Bunker Hill have echoed and re-echoed with hearty laughter, the calls for road clearance and merry chatter of youthful crowds interspersed perhaps with some screams, for the round those mountain-side curves without mishap required skilled steersmen. Many a spill can be remembered by those who participated in the sport. If, of course, was no use to go along, unless you were willing to walk up the hill again and again and probably help draw the sleds.

But in those happy, sturdy, care-free days the way did not seem long. The exertion warmed out blood and word rambles kept us in good spirits. Did we have fun? A real ambitious crowd would walk as far as Uhl's place, but most of the Bunker Hill coasters rightened their bobs, selected their places and chose a bob-end, right across from Lenhart's.

Usually the owner handed his own sleds, knowing their particular vertigo.

Do you recall that flickering gas light on their place that burned constantly. Bet what gas they burned in that great torch would have heated the Y. M. and Y. W. for several years, alas.

Jane D. MacDonald.

VICIOUS BATTLE WAGES FOR TWO AIRFIELD

Patton Units Gain on 50-Mile Front

THIRD ARMY DRIVES INTO THE MOSELLE

Vanguards of Tanks and Infantry Reach Within Two Miles of Fortified Center of Saarburg

CANADIANS IN GOCH

By JAMES M. LONG
Paris, Feb. 21.—(P)—Lt. Gen. George S. Patton, Jr., hurled an armored division today through a hole gouged in the central German front in the Moselle-Saar triangle and the tanks smashed five and a half miles forward toward Trier through disorganized resistance. Goch, strongly fortified road center between the Rhine and Meuse (Maas) rivers in the north, finally was captured by Scots of the Canadian First Army which gathered momentum in its offensive toward the Ruhr valley, 16 miles away. South of Patton's Third Army, the U. S. 7th Army advanced to within plain sight of Saarbrücken, less than three miles away. Lt. Gen. Alexander M. Patch's shock troops invading the Saar again captured half a dozen border towns and broke into Forbach, large French rail center which is almost a suburb of devastated Saarbrücken. The Americans seized heights overlooking historic Spicheren and the Siegfried line fortifications.

Patton, swiftly capitalizing on the breach in German defenses carved laboriously by Maj. Gen. Harry J. Maloney's 94th Division, sent his tanks clanking to within seven miles of Trier and two of Saarburg, both keystones of the German defense system in the Moselle valley leading to Coblenz and Mainz on the Rhine. Dispirited Germans surrendered by the hundreds.

All along a 55-mile assault front, the Third Army was slamming the Germans back on their heels. The onslaught was in the Eifel mountains from the Pruem area to below the Moselle. Vanguards were within a mile of the northern fringe of the rich Saar district coal and steel region.

In the north, the last enemy suicide squads were cleared from the ruined road center of Goch, once a town of 13,500 and still the center of eight military highways. The Scots thrust on 600 yards southwestward. Goch is eight miles south of captured Elve, terminal of the original Siegfried line, and 17 miles southeast of the Dutch city of Nijmegen, whence the Canadian offensive started.

Beyond the once-bristling town lies a small open plain in which no (Turn to Page Nine)

Fighting Vicious On Italian Front

By LYNN HEINZELING

Rome, Feb. 21.—(P)—American troops striking over Italian mountain terrain so forbidding that at times they used ropes to scramble up the steep slopes, have captured Monte Belvedere and several villages on the peaks west of the Pistoia-Bologna highway.

The Germans launched viciously, but all counterattacks were repulsed and the fighting for the dominant heights continues an Allied communique said today.

Once before Allied troops had held the commanding, 3,500-foot peak of Monte Belvedere, but the Nazis recaptured it last Nov. 29 and had held it since.

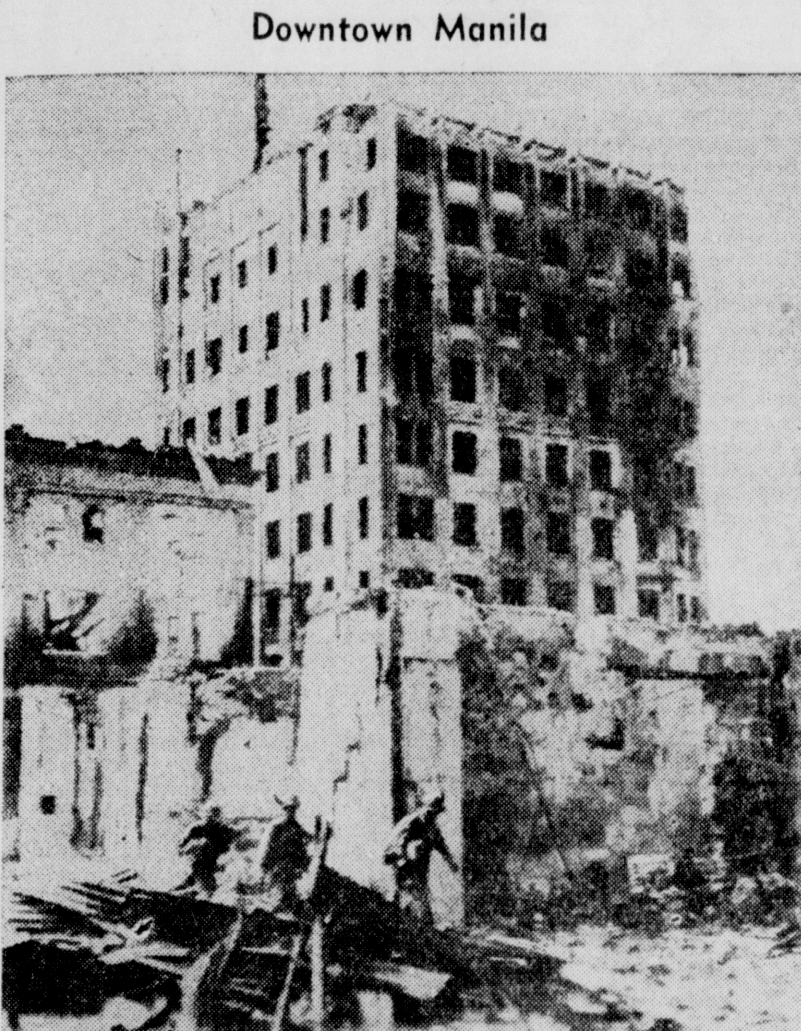

Patrols continued to be very active on the rest of the Italian front, with no changes of positions reported. The Germans still were peppering Allied positions with propaganda leaflets.

Few Exemptions Expected In Nationwide Midnight Curfew

Washington, Feb. 21.—(P)—"Primary responsibility" for administering the national midnight curfew for entertainment places today was formally assigned to the War Manpower Commission.

War Mobilization Director James E. Byrnes, who gave the job to WMC, said that agency "will be prepared to give any interpretations or explanations which may be requested."

Officials stated meanwhile that WMC Chief Paul V. McNutt will not have his enforcement machinery ready for 48 hours. The curfew, which is effective

Assembly Passes Legislation Advancing Date For Primary

Harrisburg, Feb. 21.—(P)—The general assembly passed legislation today advancing the 1945 primary election from September 11 to June 19 to accommodate Pennsylvania voters in uniform.

Under the new primary date, petitions of candidates may be circulated on March 10 and must be filed by April 9.

Final action was taken in the senate, which approved unanimously a group of house-passed bills changing that and other provisions of the election law to make it easier for

G I Joe and Jane to vote at both primary and municipal elections this year.

All but one of the measures were sent to Governor Martin for previously assured approval. One bill amended in the senate was returned to the house for action on the change.

The legislation exempts members of the armed forces from a requirement for personal registration by any person having the necessary information. The bills also set up machinery for application for ballots, their return and counting.

The soldier vote legislation, drafted by a bi-partisan conference of assembly leaders with Governor Martin, was the second major administration proposal enacted affecting members of the armed forces.

The assembly previously enacted an administration plan to help returning veterans buy homes or farms or go into business through loans guaranteed in part under the federal GI bill of rights.

Agreement of rival party leaders on the vote proposal was the first result of Governor Martin's bi-partisan conferences to speed major legislative needs.

KRESS HEADS ART GALLERY

New York, Feb. 21.—(P)—Samuel H. Kress, Pennsylvania-born art collector and 5-and-10 executive, has been elected president of the National Gallery of Art. A native of Cherryville, Northampton county, Pa., Kress got his business start with small shops in Nanticoke, Pa., and Wilkes-Barre. His election was announced by the gallery's board of trustees, headed by Chief Justice Stone of the supreme court.

next Monday midnight, probably will be retained "at least as long as we are fighting a two-front war," one high authority who withheld use of his name, said.

The fuel conservation measure brought a statement from Byrnes today expressing gratification with public response to the curfew request.

The assignment of responsibility for compliance covers not only imposition of "zero" employment ceilings in violation cases but policing of night spots as well.

ALP HIDEOUT FOR HITLER IS ATTACKED

Rocket-Firing Thunderbolts Make First Assault On Private City of Berchtesgaden

RAIL YARDS DAMAGED

By the Associated Press

Rome, Feb. 21.—Rocket-firing Thunderbolts of the U. S. 12th Air Force made the first attack of the war yesterday on Hitler's private city of Berchtesgaden, the mountain hideout high in the snow-capped Bavarian Alps, it was announced today.

The planes, sweeping in from Italian bases, pumped rockets into rail yards at low levels, ripped rail tracks, cars and locomotives and smashed at other targets in and near Berchtesgaden, which may be the most heavily fortified spot in all the Reich. They ran into intense flak and small arms fire.

While there was no official comment on the attack, it was speculated that the surprise strike was directed against the movement of top priority personnel, supplies and Nazi files from Berlin.

The assault fit into a pattern with two attacks yesterday and today from British and French bases by the U. S. Eighth Air Force on the packed rail yards and locomotive repair shops at Nuernberg, 90 miles north of Munich, the center of former Nazi propaganda spectacles and an important rail junction. The extraordinarily heavy concentration of traffic at Nuernberg led to speculation that it might be a movement of government offices from Berlin, or a buildup for the defense of Vienna.

Hitler's retreat is at Obersalzberg (upper Salt mountain) on the edge of Berchtesgaden. The only previous attack on the immediate vicinity (other top Nazi leaders have homes in the area, too) occurred several months ago when a force of American heavies hit Salzburg, Austrian border town just across from Berchtesgaden.

The Thunderbolts knocked out a locomotive and eight rail cars in the attack. At towns nearby they set fire to two passenger trains, destroyed a troop train estimated to have 150 soldiers aboard, and destroyed or damaged nearly 50 rail cars, some loaded with tanks.

(There was no indication that Hitler's retreat on Obersalzberg itself was attacked.)

Draft Quotas Will Be Hiked Director Says

Harrisburg, Feb. 21.—(P)—"Slightly" higher induction quotas and a "considerable higher" number of pre-induction physical examinations are in prospect next month in Pennsylvania, Col. Mc E. Smith, deputy state selective service director, said last night.

Pre-induction physicals will be increased "due largely to the number of 2-C's—farmers—to be examined under the directive from War Mobilization Director James F. Byrnes," Smith said.

Philadelphia draft boards were ordered to call up 8,500 men for March pre-induction physicals—against 3,000 in February.

Board spokesmen said the quotas would necessitate wholesale cancellation of deferments for men under 30 now classified as 2-A or 2-B, and also would affect "a sizeable group over 30."

The Philadelphia Record quoted unnamed officials as saying they had been advised that a new order which would result in induction of "many more" men up to 35, was in the making.

Maj. Gen. Lewis B. Hershey, national selective service director, has informed draft boards, the newspaper said, that they must "triple the induction of men over 30."

BIENNIAL RECEPTION AT EXECUTIVE MANSION

Harrisburg, Feb. 21.—(P)—Governor and Mrs. Martin were hosts to state senators and representatives at a biennial reception in the executive mansion last night.

With the Martins in the receiving line were Lt. Gov. and Mrs. John C. Bell, Mr. Harvey Taylor, president pro tempore of the senate, and Mrs. Taylor, and Ira T. Piss, speaker of the house, and Mrs. Piss.

Draw String Pulled Tighter On Sugar

Washington, Feb. 21.—(P)—The OPA pulled the draw string on the sugar sack even tighter today with a cut in allotments for home canning.

For the 1945 canning season housewives will be able to obtain a maximum of 20 pounds for each member of the family up to eight instead of last year's 25 pounds with no limit on the number receiving an allowance.

And unlike last year, when five pounds of the 25-pound maximum for each member of the family could be obtained by merely presenting a sugar stamp No. 40, all allotments must be obtained from local rationing boards.

Nuernberg Is Again Blasted By Bombers

London, Feb. 21.—(P)—More than 1,200 American bombers escorted by 650 fighters today attacked rail and industrial targets at Nuernberg for the second consecutive day.

More than 900 U. S. Flying Fortress bombers blasted the Nuernberg yards yesterday. These yards are filled with trains, possibly loaded with the records and effects of the German government ministries believed moving out of Berlin.

The strike by the British-based American sky fleet today dovetailed with an attack by Italy-based 12th Air Force planes against similar targets in and near Adolf Hitler's mountain hideout at Berchtesgaden yesterday.

Nazi broadcasts reported spearheads of two American formations were over Thuringia and Franconia, indicating another deep penetration of the Reich, possibly in support of the Russian armies.

Today's assault, carrying into daylight the ninth successive day of the fierce aerial punishment of Germany, followed a 1,200-plane strike by the RAF against 750 heavies, pummeled Dortmund, key communications center for the western front. Refugee-crammed Berlin was struck twice. Other formations broke off in several directions, striking the much-bombarded center of Mannheim, two oil refineries south of Dusseldorf on the Rhine, and other targets.

BRIDGEHEAD ALONG IRRAWADDY ENLARGED

Kandy, Ceylon, Feb. 21.—(P)—British 14th Army troops have enlarged further their bridgehead on the left bank of the Irrawaddy river in the Myinmu sector 35 miles southwest of Mandalay, a Southeast Asia Command communique said today.

Two counter-attacks were repulsed in the Singu bridgehead 40 miles north of Mandalay, where "satisfactory" progress was made.

BOY SHOTS BROTHER DURING AN ARGUMENT

Pell City, Ala., Feb. 21.—(P)—A 12-year-old son of a couple with war plant jobs was shot to death yesterday following an argument with his 14-year-old brother, Officer Tal Rich reported.

Rich said the boys were in dispute over "something about the pressing of a pair of pants."

The slain boy, Donald Gene Hollis, was shot through the heart with a .38 caliber pistol.

Snow Shovels Are Brought Out Again

By the Associated Press
Snow shovels, temporarily put aside when recent thaws removed much of a two-month accumulation of snow, were in use again today after a snowstorm blisketed most of Pennsylvania.

Sweeping in from the midwest late yesterday, the snow curtailed traffic on numerous highways, forcing road crews to work through the night churning and clearing principal arteries.

The thick, wet fall eased early today as the weatherman predicted higher temperatures and intermittent rain.

Two inches of fresh snow covered several counties in northwest Pennsylvania, where much of the old ice and snow remained from previous storms.

In eastern Pennsylvania, the storm was heaviest in the Lancaster area, but Reading, Harrisburg, Allentown and Wilkes-Barre residents also dug themselves out of the fall.

FRANKFURT IS UNDER SIEGE OF RED GUNS

Zhukov's Forces Temporarily Slash Lifelines of Fortress Town Toward Capital

DIRECT DRIVE AT NEISSE

BULLETIN

London, Feb. 21.—(P)—Red army troops have captured the Polish town of Czersk, 17 miles northwest of Chojnice and 45 miles from Danzig. Premier Marshal Stalin announced today. The city, on the main Danzig-Stettin railroad, was taken by troops of Marshal Konstantine K. Rokossovsky's Second White Russian army.

London, Feb. 21.—(P)—Marshal Gregory Zhukov's troops, fighting to encircle Frankfurt on the Oder 38 miles east of Berlin, have "temporarily slashed the city's lifelines to the capital," a German military commentator said today.

The fortress town on the west bank of the Oder is under siege and the constant hammering of Russian artillery and bombers, said the report from inside the city by Transocean War Reporter Hans Arntz.

Marshal Ivan Konev's First Ukrainian Army drove steadily westward today toward the Neisse river stronghold of Guben and the southern end of Berlin's eastern defense wall along the Oder.

Advancing as much as 10 miles through a heavily-forested region in the face of persistent German counter-attacks, Marshal Ivan S. Konev's troops yesterday captured the hamlet of Schegen, eight miles east of Guben and 57 southeast of Berlin.

Four miles to the north Konev's right flank swept through Nuernberg, on the southern bank of the Oder five miles west of captured Gosen, and rolled on toward the point seven miles away where the Oder is joined by the Neisse before (Turn to Page Nine)

Persecution Is Charged By Film Comic

Hollywood, Feb. 21.—(P)—A proposed legislature investigation to determine whether Charles Chaplin should be deported as an undesirable alien has been attacked by the film comic as "political persecution."

Senator Langer (R-N. Dak.) introduced the legislation Feb. 15, directing the attorney general to make an inquiry of the white-haired 55-year-old English-born actor-producer, recently made defendant in sensational moral and paternity charges. The bill was assigned to the senate immigration committee.

In a statement to the press, Chaplin declared that "political persecution" of him has been going on for four years, "ever since I made an anti-Nazi picture, 'The Great Dictator,' in which I expressed liberal ideas."

"On account of this picture, I was called to Washington for questioning as a war monger by Senators Clark and Nye," the statement continued. "This investigation fell through after Pearl Harbor."

The persecution, however, increased after I dared to speak on behalf of Russia, urging the Allies to open a second front. For this I was bitterly attacked by reactionary columnists, using every device to discredit me with the public."

Britain Wants Greater Role In Pacific War Talks Reveal

Washington, Feb. 21.—(P)—Evidence that Britain wants a greater role in the war against Japan is found here in the disclosure of new Roosevelt-Churchill discussions on Pacific fighting.

President Roosevelt, on his return journey from Yalta, met the British leader at Alexandria several days ago. He wanted to meet General Charles de Gaulle at Algiers immediately afterward, but the French president, having been left out at Yalta, snapped a curt "no thanks."

Mr. Roosevelt also conferred with three kings—Farouk of Egypt,

3,650 Casualties In First 48 Hours Adm. Nimitz Says

Tank-Led Marines, Holding Firm Control of Over Third of Island, Begin Developing Drive Against Motoyama Airdrome

SLOW ADVANCE MADE UNDER HEAVY ENEMY FIRE

By AL DOPKING

U. S. Pacific Fleet Headquarters, Guam, Feb. 21.—(P)—Approximately 3,650 Marines were killed or wounded in the first 48 hours of the battle for Iwo Jima, Adm. Chester W. Nimitz announced today as he reported the Leathernecks made general advances ranging up to 1,000 yards on the island's central air field.

Nimitz listed approximately 3,500 enlisted men and 150 officers as casualties—killed, wounded and missing. He said 3,063 of the wounded have been evacuated, indicating about 600 were killed or missing.

There was no estimate of Japanese losses.

Tank-led Marines, holding firm control of more than a third of the island, began an enveloping drive against the fighter field, known as Motoyama No. 2. The Fifth Marine Division by-passed the southern tip of the field in a flanking move, preparatory to striking at it from the west, while the Fourth Division pushed directly toward the center of the airdrome.

Every yard of the advance was made under a steady hail of Japanese machine gun, mortar, rifle and rocket fire over wet, rocky slopes criss-crossed with revetments, pillboxes, blockhouses, and reinforced sniper holes. Mines and tank traps were plentiful.

The marine drive stemmed from Motoyama Airdrome No. 1, the island's prized bomber field captured yesterday noon 30 hours ahead of schedule.

About 700 yards separate these two fields, the only completed air strips on the island, 750 miles south of Tokyo.

Other Devil Dogs crawled 100 paces to the slopes of Suribachi volcano, a fortress mountain on the southern tip of the island from which Japanese guns dominate every inch of the dismal ground the Yanks control.

Vicious Japanese defenders attempted one small tank supported nighttime counterattack and almost constant infiltration, both coordinated with mortar, rocket and artillery barrages.

All attempts were broken up by the marines, with the aid of illuminating flares fired throughout the night by the American invasion fleet lying offshore. The flares exposed virtually every Japanese attempt at nighttime maneuvers.

Naval guns, masses of marine artillery, carrier planes, tanks and individual marine units combined in pulverizing Japanese defenses which cover the entire volcanic island. But the marines still face an uphill fight.

The northern mass of the island rises about 50 yards above Motoyama Airdrome No. 2, which lies on a plateau. The marines had to climb slopes to approach it from any direction.

They inched forward 200 yards north of Motoyama Airdrome No. 1, also known as Suribachi, before they had to dig in as enemy rockets and artillery shells poured down from overlooking positions.

Those marines were on the north flank of a wedge which has been driven across the narrow south (Turn to Page Nine)

WAR PRISONERS TAKEN DEEPER INTO GERMANY

New York, Feb. 21.—(P)—Richard F. Allen, vice chairman of the American National Red Cross, says that American prisoners of war in Germany are being marched deeper into the Reich through temperatures as low as 30 degrees below zero without proper clothing.

Allen, in charge of insular and foreign operations for the Red Cross, told members of the organization's Brooklyn branch yesterday that "those of you who have someone in the German prison camps must be ready for bad news."

SIEGE TACTICS BEING WAGED AGAINST JAPS

MacArthur Announces a Week of Fighting in Manila Has Cost the Enemy 24,000 Men

PULVERIZE INTRAMUROS

By FRED HAMPSON

Manila, Feb. 21.—(P)—Medieval siege tactics in modern guise were employed against trapped Japanese garrisons in Manila's thick-walled intramuros and on Corregidor today as Gen. Douglas MacArthur announced the past week's fighting has cost the Nipponese 24,000 casualties.

Cannon and howitzers gnawed steadily at the 40-foot-thick outer wall of the Intramuros to cut an entranceway for tanks and infantry seeking to eliminate the cornered enemy and liberate an estimated 7,000 civilians.

The Yanks could pulverize the Intramuros and everybody inside with air power, but they are trying to save the civilians. Arthur Feldman, of the Blue network termed this a possibly futile gesture. He was of the opinion the Japanese already have killed most of the civilians.

Gen. Douglas MacArthur said in his communique today that the enemy garrison in South Manila, now compressed into an area only 1,200 yards by 800, "is acting with the greatest savagery in its treatment of non-combatants and private property."

On Corregidor, both entrances of the main tunnel were blocked by explosives and Yanks swarmed over the topside poked through rubble in search of the ventilation vent. When they find it the Japanese will be completely sealed off, their doom certain.

Liquid fire and explosives were killing the few Japanese who managed to dash from the few remaining crevices in banai charges.

MacArthur, describing the fighting in Manila as still bitter, underscored its severity by announcing enemy casualties of 92,000 for the six weeks of the Luzon campaign as against American casualties of 12,929—2,676 killed, 245 missing and 10,008 wounded.

This showed 24,000 Japanese and 3,246 American casualties in the last week alone.

Work - or - Jail Bill Shunted Into a Siding

Washington, Feb. 21.—(P)—The work-or-jail bill was shunted into a siding today while the senate military committee worked out a substitute measure strengthening the War Manpower Commission's authority to correct labor shortages.

The committee reluctance—obvious for the last two weeks—to accept the house-approved bill with its drastic penalties crystallized yesterday in a 12 to 6 vote to take up a substitute offered by Senator O'Mahoney (D-Wyo.) and five other senators.

Even a memorandum from President Roosevelt expressing "hope that legislation embracing the principle of the May bill can be speedily enacted" failed to swing a committee majority who say they are convinced enactment of the house bill would impede rather than aid war production.

Turkeys Scarce; Local Farms Prepare For Big Crop In 1945

Have you tried to buy a turkey lately? If you have had a yen for one of the big bronzed fellows you have discovered that there "just isn't no such thing." Warren county farms are denuded of birds for the market and the local markets are unable to buy any of the birds except on an order placed far, far in advance.

But next winter it is going to be a different story. There should be plenty of birds provided of course that Uncle Sam doesn't take all of the birds for the men who are doing the fighting for the stay at home. Today 400 White Hollander poults (and it was a heck of a job to find that name) arrived in the city for the Earl Turkey farm. They are one day old birds and hatched from Lincolnville. Raising of the birds is a big job and the turkey raiser must know his turks to get a good showing of fine birds for Thanksgiving. Benj. Mathis, who raises some handsome birds is due to receive 800 poults from State College on March 5. They will be taken to his farm and made ready for the festive Thanksgiving tables. These will be the streamlined birds which have been produced by breeding at State College. They have heavy breasts with plenty of white meat and are supposed to average about 10 pounds.

At the Saunders Turkey Farm there are 300 hen turkeys that are now laying in good shape. The farm now has 700 eggs which will be hatched and every effort made to raise the birds for the fall market. Other eggs will be hatched as they are produced by the hens.

And from Harrisburg comes the following news dispatch relative to the turkey situation for 1945: Pennsylvania's 1945 turkey production should be the largest in history, the State Agriculture Department predicted today.

Last year's output of 1,285,000 birds was the highest total, but the Department said turkey growers and farmers indicated they would raise 257,000 more this year, a 20 per cent increase.

Heavy January snowfalls may delay preparations for spring farm activities, the Department said, because severe weather and blockaded roads interfered with delivery of equipment and supplies.

Williamsport Lays Plan To Get Industries

Harrisburg, Feb. 21—How one progressive community is planning for industrial expansion after the war was revealed today by the State Department of Commerce.

Through the resources and initiative of its business and community leaders, Williamsport, Lycoming County, has taken action through the Community Trade Association to create a fund for the "acquisition and construction of modern industrial floor space in an area Williamsport."

The fund, which will start with a $100,000 appropriation and grow according to need, will enable new and desirable industries to locate and thus assure Williamsport continued industrial expansion.

C. E. Noyes, manager of the Williamsport Community Trade Association told the Department.

"Not only will the new industries create many employment opportunities but they will aid our present industries by either using their by-products or supplying them with raw products or parts," Noyes said.

Noyes pointed out that new industries will help absorb some of the 9200 men and women from the Williamsport area now serving in the armed forces and help take up the slack of those now employed who will be replaced or released.

Noyes cited Williamsport's industrial employment figures which show a gain of more than 100 per cent in eleven years. In 1932 there were 8000 persons employed while in 1943 the peak of 16,300 was reached. At the present time some 15,000 are employed.

LIVING MEMORIALS

Harrisburg, Feb. 21 — Miles Horst, Pennsylvania Secretary of Agriculture, in an address in Philadelphia, before the Pennsylvania Nurserymen's Association recently suggested that cities, towns and civic groups desiring to erect monument to World War II veterans, consider "living memorials" such as parks, recreation spots, rose gardens, laurel or dogwood plantations.

Rotarians Hear Talk On Peace Given By R. R. Young Monday

One of the most thought inspiring talks that has been given before the Warren Rotary Club in a long time was given Monday by Robert R. Young, of the High School faculty. Mr. Young is a student of world affairs and his talk was one that roused much comment from the clubmen following its delivery.

Mr. Young presented a Four-Square plan for peace—1st. That peace can only be maintained if the peace loving nations of the world band together for that purpose.

A bill introduced in the House at Harrisburg yesterday by Edward A. Schuster, (D-Allegheny) would set the first day of deer season as the first Monday in December instead of December 1st, as it is now fixed.

ON DEAN'S LIST

Students in the Warren area whose names are in the Dean's List at Edinboro State Teachers' College for the first semester are Louise Johnson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clinton Johnson, of Truine, and Joyce M. Weldon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. K. A. Weldon, of Grand Valley.

SELLING FARM TRACTORS

The Office of Surplus Property has announced a huge sale of farm equipment and construction materials and equipment which will be held at Mifflin, Pa., next week on February 28th. The list includes all kinds of heavy farm tractors, together with crawler tractors, concrete paving machinery, air compressors, power pumps, concrete mixers, and almost everything of the kind. It is one of scores of such sales being held now throughout the country where big war jobs have been completed.

JACKSON IS NO. 1

A telephone communication from State Senator Chapman, at Harrisburg, yesterday gave the word that Leonard Jackson, of this city, a polo victim is listed as No. 1 patient for the Blossburg hospital. The Blossburg hospital has been equipped with the most modern fittings for the treatment of the disease and Senator Chapman has been at work endeavoring to get Jackson entered there as a patient. His work has evidently been successful.

CRIBBAGE MATCH PLAYED

Cribbage teams from the Moose, Elks and Vets Clubs have opened a Round Robin match for cribbage honors. The tourney will continue for six weeks and promises to be an interesting affair. The first match was played at the Vets Club last evening between the Moose and Vets and the Moose won by a score of 60 to 48. Matches will be played every Tuesday evening and next week the Vets play the Elks at the Elks Club House.

NOT TO ABBREVIATE

State employees have received notice signed by Gov. Edward Martin that henceforth there shall be no abbreviations used when writing the name of this state. Pennsylvania must be spelled out in its entirety. This is in line with the campaign to carry the name of the state over the nation in full. Too often the abbreviation Pa. or Penn's is used and this is not as the State Department of Commerce would have it. Residents of the state will do well to follow the example of the state employees.

AGAIN HONORED

Mrs. Gunnard Lundmark, 102 Quaker road, has received word from Marjorie Webster College in Washington, D. C., that her daughter, Mary Ann, has again been placed on the Dean's List. She is a very active member of her graduating class, being its president, and a member of Student Council. Miss Lundmark is also singing in the trio which is part of a unit formed by Marjorie Webster College to tour the hospital service and USO centers of the capital area.

YM BIBLE STUDY CLASS

The book designated for study tomorrow night in the Y. M. C. A. Adult Bible Class is the Gospel of St. John. The class will begin at 7:30 p. m. sharp, with Rev. Arthur E. Fowler as teacher. Dr. Fowler's thorough knowledge of the Bible and his excellent ability as a teacher have made a most favorable impression upon the many who have attended the class to date. Any interested man or woman is eligible to attend, whether or not he or she has attended a previous session. The folder distributed before the opening of this class stated that there would be no session on February 22. This has been changed so that next week's session will be omitted instead, because of the Preaching Mission service.

(a)—To prevent war, negotiating, mediation, conciliation and arbitration.

(b)—To suppress war, force through the Council.

3rd—To build peace, stone by stone.

4th—To erect an edifice of peaceful international relations. The fourth is dependent upon the other three.

In the formation of peaceful agencies we as citizens are challenged to understand it, discuss it and do something about it.

There are two methods of change in the world:—Evolution moving slowly and making adjustments as we go along. Revolution, if the rate is too rapid society cannot keep pace and disruptions of every sort from the petty individual wrong doing to the greatest of international crimes.

In the world today we can see evidences of both, methods at work in social, economic and political relations and in the development of ideals in each of their fields. Think of how many centuries it must have taken for nations to develop from individuals through families, clans, tribes with fathers, patriarchs, and chiefs at the head until the present day England or America and the end is not yet.

Mr. Young briefly traced the rise of the American government and touched on the efforts for international co-operation. A comparison of the League of Nations was made with Articles of Confederation in our own country. The Dumbarton Oaks meeting also received attention. Under the Dumbarton Oaks plan the purpose is to effect an organization that would remedy the weaknesses and defects of the preceding League. They were: Only a league allowing withdrawal from membership on two years notice. No teeth in it. Lacked support of the stronger nations noteworthy the United States, many members belonged only as a matter of convenience. The United Nations plans a Security Council, Assembly (now only advisory to investigate and recommend.) And finally the Secretary to pass upon and enforce.

Mr. Young was warmly congratulated at the conclusion of his talk by the members in attendance.

The five deer that made an amphibious invasion of Warren from the Conewango Creek Sunday do not number five since one of them was killed in a leap off the Fifth avenue bridge but some of them were still about town yesterday.

Mrs. George Pierce, 6 Melvina street was sitting at her window yesterday afternoon about 2 o'clock when a deer suddenly leaped up in front of the window. A dog was chasing the animal and Mrs. Pierce was fearful that it would leap through the window. She arose and the deer seeing her turned and ran down Melvina street toward Pennsylvania avenue. Other dogs joined the one chasing the deer and in a short time a small pack of dogs was engaged in the game. The animal finally eluded his pursuers and faded from view.

Two others of the deer that came down the creek were reported Sunday afternoon in the vicinity of Division street. They ran between homes and garages and finally up the hillside toward the woodland at the head of Division street. The last seen of them they were making their way into the brush and trees on the fringe of the city.

Another landed from the Conewango at the foot of Oak street and was seen about that section of the city several times Sunday evening.

Great numbers of enormous mammals once roamed over the western region of the United States.

GOVERNOR'S MANSION

South Carolina's governor's mansion at Columbia is clothed in history and romance that links the old and the new South. Built in 1835, it was originally the officers' barracks of the Arsenal Academy. It escaped the fire that swept part of the city that year and came through the War Between the States unscathed. Simple in construction, it is cooled by dense foliage of the beautiful trees surrounding it. War Bonds have maintained a defense against injury to this historic gem and will guard it safely to posterity.

Sgt. Arthur One of Four To Get Star

Four men of the 2nd Ranger Infantry Battalion, part of a group from their Ninth Army unit which fought off numerically superior enemy forces for 48 hours without food, water or medical aid, have been awarded Silver Stars for their gallantry in action, the War Department has announced.

One of the quartet is S/Sgt. Lester G. Arthur, son of Clyde J. Arthur, of Akeley. The citation for the award tells how they were detailed to protect a battalion command post and aid station in France last June 6th, how they were cut off from help and how they successfully resisted powerful attempts of the enemy to overwhelm them.

Gunner From Pittsfield Is In Cited Unit

It is learned in a special dispatch from England that S/Sgt. Nick L. Manelick, Pittsfield gunner, is a member of the 392nd bombardment group, a Liberator unit recently cited for "distinguished and exceptionally outstanding performance of duty" on 200 missions.

Commanded by Col. Lorin L. Johnson, of Payson, Utah, the group has been overseas for more than a year. The 200th mission was made on Armistice Day, the 100th on D-Day. The citation, issued by Maj. Gen. William E. Kenner, of the Second Bombardment Division, reads:

"During this period of 200 missions, the 392nd attacked 120 targets in Germany and 80 targets in enemy-occupied territory despite adverse conditions and inclement weather at times... overcoming fierce enemy fighter opposition on many occasions in order to reach assigned objectives."

Targets attacked by 392nd Liberators include Berlin, Gotha, Pöhlitz, Bremen, Hamburg and other objectives in Germany, France, Norway, Holland, Belgium and Poland.

HOME FROM PACIFIC

Craig Retterer, gunner's mate second class, is home for a 22-day leave from the South Pacific, visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Retterer, 16 South Pine street. Assigned to a battleship, this is his first leave home in 20 months.

Mrs. Carl E. Anderson, Rogers Mills, has received word that her husband, T/S Anderson, is located on the island of Oahu in the Hawaiian Islands, serving with an anti-aircraft artillery unit.

WHY QUINTUPLETS

use this great rub for SORE THROAT COUGHS due to COLDS

Wonderful for Grown-Ups, Too! Ever since they were tiny tots—when ever the Quintuplets catch cold—their chests, throats and backs are immediately rubbed with Musterole.

Musterole gives such blessed prompt relief because it's more than just an ordinary "salve." It's what so many Doctors and Nurses call a modern counter-irritant. It not only relieves coughs, sore throat, aching chest muscles due to colds, makes breathing easier—but it actually helps break up congestion in upper bronchial tract, nose and throat.

And Musterole is so much easier to apply than a mustard plaster. White, Stainless. Just rub it on! "No fuss. No muss with Musterole!"

IN 3 STRENGTHS: Children's Mild Musterole, Regular, and Extra Strong.

RECEIVES AWARD
Word has been received that Cpl. Walter A. Fredericks, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Fredericks, 23 Locust street, with MacArthur in the initial invasion of the Philippines and now on Leyte, has been awarded the Combat Infantryman's Badge. At present, Cpl. Fredericks is hospitalized on the island, convalescing from an illness. He recently had the unexpected pleasure of a meeting with a former neighbor, David Ristau, whom he had not seen in a couple of years. Ristau, who was admitted to the same hospital because of illness, has also written his family concerning the meeting and the fine visit which resulted. They both write they are much improved in health.

Cpl. Font Is Awarded Star

Cpl. Anthony W. Font, whose mother, Mrs. Lucy M. Font, resides at 1313 Pennsylvania avenue, west, has been awarded the Bronze Star for "heroic achievement in connection with military operations in Germany."

News of his decoration comes in a special report from headquarters of the 104th Division in Germany.

Cpl. Font is a construction foreman in Company B of the 329th Engineer Battalion of the Timberwolf Division, now slugging its way through Germany.

He attended school here and was employed by the Pennsylvania Railroad Company before entering the army.

Mrs. Charles C. Blackman, Liberty street, has received word that her husband, Charles Clark Blackman, has been promoted from ensign to the rank of lieutenant, junior grade. Lt. Blackman, son of Mr. and Mrs. S. D. Blackman, Jackson avenue, is on an L.S.T. somewhere in the South Pacific.

Lt. Blackman entered the service in March of 1943, going to Fort Bragg, N. C., as an officer's candidate in the army. Leaving the army in June, 1943, he received his commission as an ensign, United States Naval Reserve, October 15, 1943, and reported to Hollywood, Fla., for his indoctrination course. He then went to Harvard University, Cambridge, Mass., for a communications course; from there to Solomons Beach, Md., and Panama City, Fla. He has been on sea duty since August.

Lt. Blackman was graduated from Cornell University, Ithaca, N. Y., and before entering the service was employed in the First National Bank, this city. His wife and small daughter, Suzanne, are living at 400 Liberty street. He has one brother, Lt. Sidney W. Blackman, also on sea duty somewhere in the Pacific.

HONORABLE DISCHARGE
James Mansfield, 46 Railroad street, has been honorably discharged from the United States Marine Corps after ten years of service in that branch. His brother, Eddie, he reports, is in France and another brother, Dick, is somewhere in the Pacific.

IN ADMIRALTY GROUP
Carolyn Reynolds, of Youngsville, has received word from her husband, Paul J. Reynolds, petty officer third class, that he is now on duty in a fleet postoffice in the Admiralty Islands in the Pacific. He would like to hear from his friends and his address may be had from his wife or from his mother, Mrs. W. B. Reynolds.

IS PETTY OFFICER
Word comes from the naval nine warfare school at Yorktown, Va., that Henry Christensen, East Fifth avenue, has been advanced from seaman first class to petty officer, yeoman third class. P/O Christensen only recently arrived at Yorktown after a year's duty with Ship's Company Band at Camp Peary, Va., SeaBee center.

Pvt. Ernest M. Breed, stationed at Camp Livingston, La., is spending a short furlough with his parents Dr. and Mrs. E. M. Breed, North Warren.

According to word received here from the army air field at Casper, Wyo., Cpl. Merle G. Fox, son of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Fox, 7 Monroe street, is a nose turret gunner on a B-24 heavy bombardment crew now in its final stage of training at that base. Following this period of training, he and his crew will be sent overseas to a combat area to take up the fight against the enemy.

Complicated, Eh?

Wolf, von Otterstedt, above, recently commissioned second lieutenant in the U. S. Army at Ft. Knox, Ky., is the nephew of a major-general in the German Army; his father was a captain in the German Army in World War I; his brother serves in the British 8th Army, and his mother is a London Red Cross nurse. Von Otterstedt, instructor in Tank Gunnery at Ft. Knox, fled Germany after Hitler rose to power.

Mrs. C. S. Nuesom reported for the nominating committee and the following officers were elected: President, Mrs. McIntosh; vice president, Mrs. C. L. Veness; secretary, Mrs. Scott Stuart; treasurer, Mrs. Frank; secretary of literature, Miss Josephine Ricker.

Mrs. R. S. Cunningham was given a delightful surprise party Friday evening at the home of Mrs. A. A. Grant when forty two persons met there to present Mrs. Cunningham with a thank you badge in appreciation of her work for the Girl Scouts and Brownies in the past. Susan Summerson gave a poem of Thanks and Dorothy Miller presented the badge with Mrs. Cunningham making a gracious response. Mrs. Correll, Scout executive of Warren led in the singing of Scouting songs. Refreshments were served by the N. B. Club who are sponsors of the Girl Scouts with Mrs. Allan Frank assisting. Those present included Mrs. Correll and son David of Warren.

BACKACHE, LEG PAINS MAY BE DANGER SIGN Of Tired Kidneys

If backache and leg pains are making you miserable, don't just complain and do nothing about them. Nature may be warning you that your kidneys need attention. The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking excess acids and poisons waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 3 pints a day. If the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filters don't work well, poisonous waste matter stays in the blood. These poisons may start nagging backache, rheumatic pain, leg pains, loss of sleep and energy, getting up night, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there's something wrong with your kidneys or bladder. Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from the blood. Schoonover, Mrs. Travers Stohlberg, Mrs. Carleton Foss, Mrs. Roy Briggs and Mrs. Frank Richmond were the women from the church who decorated the tables in red, white and blue, using crepe paper and candles in crystal holders and served the thirteen supper. Twenty Scouts and forty parents and friends were present at the delightful affair. Following the supper the following program was presented: Parade of Colors, Pledge of Allegiance, Song America, Welcome by F. A. Schoonover, who acted as chairman. Travers Stohlberg, troop Scoutmaster, explained the program for our troop and of First Aid. Bandage demonstration, Fox Patrol, Leonard Briggs, patrol leader, removal from live electric wire, and resuscitation by artificial respiration, Fleming Arrow Patrol, Malcolm Allen, leader. Application of leg splint and coat stretcher, by Fleming Eagle Patrol, Guy Summerson, leader. An Investiture service for Ronald Barrett, who became a Tenderfoot Scout. Second class badges were awarded to Sherman McClure and John Stuart, Jr., by Scott Stuart Jr. The troops charter for 1945 was presented by Chester Seymour, Warren County Scout Executive, who also spoke briefly on Scouting and presented credentials to the following troop committees, F. A. Schoonover, chairman, Scott Stuart, Jr., secretary and treasurer; Gerald Miller, program and activities director; Rev. Carleton Foss, educational and training director; Roy Briggs, health advisor and Wesley Barlow and Travers Stohlberg, Scoutmasters. This evening program was the culmination of a successful observance of National Boy Scout Week, which included a window display of a camp at John Abbott's Store, the recruiting of two new Scouts, the observance of Scout Sunday by attendance at the Methodist church in a body Feb. 11th and wearing of Scout uniforms all week.

MR. CHURCHILL'S SHAPKA

Prime Minister Churchill, who has just returned to London from a historic mission, wore a new hat at the Crimea Conference. It was a becoming hat—a shapka, it was called—made of black lamb's wool. Though said to have been a present from Canadians, it was of Russian design. And it looked warm and comfortable, as well as handsome.

Many Americans must have felt a twinge of envy when they saw the picture of Mr. Churchill wearing it. And it may have occurred to them, as it did to us, that hat reform in this country is long overdue. There is plenty of fruitless agitation for more sensible men's business attire, especially in summer—a sort of Four Freedoms, from coats, neckties, collars, long sleeves.

But the reformers seem to shy away from hats. This is a pity, for men's hats are both impractical and unbecoming. They blow off in the wind. They offer scant warmth in wintertime where warmth is needed. They afford little protection and less comfort in summer.

And the monotony of style and color. There is no better material for a bitter soliloquy on our regimented life than the parade of headgear on one's fellow men as they file along a city street—snap brim after snap brim, all snapped precisely at the same angle; crown after crown, creased in conventional uniformity.

It's enough to make a man start a revolt. But of course no man will. No, he will cast a longing look at Mr. Churchill's shapka, a dashing, rakish hat that also keeps the ears warm and sits lightly on the brow. Then he will go forth as usual in the same old felt, still looking uncomfortable, unflattered and unimaginative.

State Senator L. E. Chapman, who has a wide local reputation for humanitarian efforts, is rapidly gaining that reputation over the entire state. He has recently had passed a resolution raising the pay for charity work in the state's hospitals from $3.50 to $4 per day; has been active in a program for betterment of the institutions housing unfortunate wards of the state and his work to secure cancer clinics and a research laboratory for the people of Pennsylvania is winning him new acclaim in the press of the state.

The board of education of Grace Methodist church is taking a forward step that will be watched with interest in setting up a regular schedule of activities for boys and girls of all ages, to be staged in the large and well-equipped gymnasium in the basement of the edifice. The project offers a suggestions for congregations of other churches in town that have similar facilities.

Now come predictions of a coal strike in spring. It's too bad the operators can't mine their own business!

LENTEN SERMONETTE

Rev. Stephen R. Schieb, Salem Evangelical Church

"TOWERING OVER THE WRECKS OF TIME"

The focal point of the Lenten season is Calvary. In solemn mood the Christian Church fixes its eye upon the Cross. There, "Towering over the wrecks of time," it earnestly proclaims its eternal message of God's infinite love in the very home of Hate. The uninitiated look aghast and perplexed.

There were three crosses on Calvary, each declaring its own message. The one proclaimed the fate of the impenitent—a fate which still vexes our impenitent world. Refusing to recognize its own guilt and neglecting its day of salvation, our world goes on to its doom with a word of comfort from the Saviour of mankind, and dies without hope.

A second cross demonstrates that "whosoever liveth and believeth in Him shall not perish, but have everlasting life." Even the criminal, the person who has lived his life away from God, shall find mercy when in penitence he turns to the Saviour who died for him also. What two worlds the Very-God-of-very-God and the Very-Man-of-very-Man hung and still hangs between!

It is the third cross, however, which towers over the wrecks of time and in which we Christians glory. It is the cross which brings life and immortality to both crosses between which it stands. This Cross supplies the answer to the most important of all questions: "What shall I do to be saved?" Through the ages and to all people it declares with an affirmative certainty: "Believe in the crucified Lord Jesus Christ and you shall be saved!" Ages and peoples have tried it—and confirm.

When I survey the wondrous cross
On which the Prince of Glory died,
My richest gain I count but loss,
And pour contempt on all my pride.

T-H-O-U-G-H-T-S

Now we exhort you, brethren, warn them that are unruly, comfort the feeble-minded, support the weak, be patient toward all men.—1 Thessalonians 5:14.

Individualities may form communities, but it is institutions alone that can create a nation.—Benjamin Disraeli.

YEARS AGO IN WARREN

Interesting Items Taken From The Warren Evening Times

In 1925

The Warren Street Railway Company has filed a tariff by which the rate for transportation of motor vehicles on flat cars between Glade and Sheffield has been cancelled, leaving no rates in effect.

Warren's first Community Drive will start on March 23. Although much has been said previously about starting a Chest, nothing was ever done about it, but the constitution and by-laws have been submitted to an appointed committee.

Formal announcement of the second Warren Dollar Days was made by the Chamber of Commerce. Merchants are planning large sales.

Warren faces one of the busiest periods in reconstruction with the coming of spring. Approximately $4,000,000 will be spent in repairs, remodeling, and building in various parts of the city.

Fish and Eggs Help Stretch Meat Supply

Again it is necessary for homemakers to make their meat ration reach as far as possible.

Many homemakers in Warren county have been successfully using meat alternates for some time, among the dishes they have been serving as the main food for dinner and which are favorites with their families are fish, cheese, egg, or dried bean dishes.

Some families still like meat once a day. To do this during periods of short supplies, they need to stretch what meat they get. Following are two recipes that are favorites with many homemakers. The first is a good meat alternate, the second a good meat stretcher.

Bean Loaf

1 cup dried beans, or 3 cups cooked beans.
1 cup soft bread crumbs.
1 egg, well beaten.
1 teaspoon salt.
1 teaspoon pepper.
3 tablespoons fat.
2 tablespoons minced onion.
Soak beans overnight. Cook until tender. Combine ingredients and turn into a buttered bread pan. If loaf seems too moist, add more bread crumbs. Bake in a moderate oven 25 minutes. Unmold in center of platter, slice, and serve with tomato sauce.

Casserole of Pork

2 cups canned or cooked pork.
1 teaspoon salt.
1/3 cup fat.
Few sprigs sweet herbs.
Salt.
6 small onions.
1 1/2 cups cooked macaroni.
1 large carrot.
1 green pepper.
1 apple.
1 sliced onion.
5 tablespoons flour.
2 cups pork stock.
1/2 teaspoon salt.
1/4 teaspoon pepper.
1 teaspoon mustard.
Cut lean meat in pieces for serving, sprinkle with salt, and cook in fat until brown. Place in casserole. Add onions cooked until tender, and cooked macaroni. Put in carrot, pepper, and apple which have been cut in shreds. To fat in pan, add one slice of onion and cook until brown. Add flour and when well browned add stock, salt, pepper, and mustard, pour over meat and vegetables in casserole, and bake covered for 1 hour.

Other recipes for making the most of the meat ration are given in leaflet 86, "Making Meat Go Further," which may be obtained upon request from Mrs. Thelma Prendergast at the Agricultural Extension office in the Court House.

The United States Government has written war damage insurance on about $116,000,000,000 worth of property in the United States and territories governed by the United States.

OPA Demands Prosecutions For Violators of Various Rules

According to instructions from District Price Panel Coordinator, Dilworth Kennedy of the Pittsburgh District Office, which were read at the Warren Price Panel meeting Monday afternoon, violators of OPA rules in both Group 1 and 2, and 3 and 4 food stores will be prosecuted following further violations.

"For over two years OPA has been doing little more than educating the public. Now the situation is tightening up. No one can say: 'How about the other fellow?' for all violators will be brought into line, according to the new overall OPA plan.

Mr. Kennedy writes to the Warren Price Panel chairman: "An independent survey just made shows a much higher percentage of ceiling price violations in this area than in the 49 other areas of the United States.

"Our own food-check survey indicates with a few exceptions a continuous high average of price and posting food violations although you have been conducting a compliance survey for over a year."

In Group 1 and 2 stores the penalty for intentional violations is a minimum of $50.00, unintentional violations at the statutory minimum of $25.00 less refunds, according to Section 10609 of the Price Panel Manual. Third violations will be taken out of local hands, and be prosecuted directly through the Pittsburgh office.

"The independent survey of Group 3 and 4 stores shows even greater percentage of sales over ceiling prices than Group 1 and 2 stores. Chain store violations found in the February food check, even without records of former price violations, will be sent directly to Mr. Kennedy at Pittsburgh for action.

"We have found a number of meat-grading violations in Warren," explained the price clerk at the meeting Monday. But our instructions are that if the butcher does not mark grades on his meat, it is definitely a violation and subject to penalty, the same as if meat was being sold at over ceiling prices."

"The OPA's program of ceiling prices and keeping a rein on inflation is an honorable thing—the whole being for our benefit. Without it we would now have chaos.

The saving of the price on sugar alone now as contrasted with World War I, is four times the cost of the entire OPA per year," explained one member of the local Price Panel.

Since the OPA has charged its policy of "education" to "prosecution" it was voted by Price Panel members to give some publicity to the "cracking down" on violators, so that the public would be informed ahead of time.

INSPECTION PERIOD EXTENDED TO MAR. 15

Harrisburg, Feb. 20.—(P)—Extension by the revenue department today moved up to March 15 the deadline for semi-annual inspection of motor vehicles in Pennsylvania.

Secretary David W. Harris shifted the date soon after Governor Martin signed into law a bill authorizing the department to extend inspections for a maximum of 60 days.

Harris said there will be no further extension.

Vitamins Once a Day May Be Inadequate

By Mullen Drug Co.

Too many people believe that rule which applies to some is sufficient for all. The use of vitamins is a case in point. As a matter of fact, vitamins should be ordered by the doctor, and the quantity and quality decided. Any other procedure apt to be the "hit or miss" plan and fail in hoped for results. There are pharmaceutical firms whose products are of outstanding quality, and who maintain unceasing vigilance for the quality and potency of their products. The doctor's advice, however, is to the quantity needed by an individual is important. Needs are as various as finger prints. Consult your doctor about the use of vitamins. Purchase quality products from a reliable druggist. This is the third of a series of editorial advertisements appearing in this paper each Wednesday. (Copyright)

Public Library Having Another Of Story Hours

The Warren Public Library has announced the opening of its next series of community story hours for boys and girls on March 2nd. The story hour a week from Friday will be for the children in the first, second and third grades. The following Friday, March 9th, will be for boys and girls in the 4th, 5th and 6th grades.

Mrs. Betty Archibald has again been secured by the public library as the story teller for both groups. Because of the unusually large groups which have attended the Warren library's community story hours, an experiment was made during Book Week this year, which is being continued during the next series. The two group plan, with admission by free ticket, will be used.

Tickets may be secured at the circulation desk in the children's room. The juvenile department is open until eight o'clock in the evening, with the exception of Saturdays, when the library closes at six o'clock. Tickets were issued for the first time yesterday afternoon.

Grace Methodist Takes Forward Step In Recreation for Young People

Over 100 Grace Methodist church young people enjoyed the department dinner given by the board of education in the church dining room on Monday evening. Dinner was served by teachers of the youth division under the direction of Mrs. William M. Smith and Harry Summers led group singing at the table.

Following dinner the Loyalty Legion, an organization of all the young people of the church, was launched. Detailed organization and election of officers will take place at the March meeting of the group.

Aviation In Post War Period Topic Of Blue Stockings

Blue Stocking Club members held their regular meeting Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Brackett Ayers, with Miss Ethel Morris as assisting hostess. The president, Mrs. Robert Winger, conducted the business session and gave a brief review of interesting articles from The Clubwoman, federation magazine. Mrs. P. S. Tarbox presented several current events of interest to women and their position in regard to a large percentage of savings, investments and wealth of the county; and the need for women to give more study and thought to finances.

The main topic of the afternoon was "Post-war Aviation", given by Edward Walker, detailing the various types of planes and their uses. These, he said, would be much improved after the war, with increased speed and capacity of cruisers and transports through the use of 100 octane gas; ability of amphibious cruisers to land in small areas, especially with the new tri-cycle-type wheeled base.

He made his subject more interesting by application to women's self, which, he said, would probably develop a feeder-line service for Erie and Buffalo airports. Jamestown, he pointed out, is in a good position to be included in a scheduled air route. The speaker stated that he feels flying will play a very important part in lives of service men after the war, since many of them have been technically trained and have developed interest in flying. A general discussion and question period following has been proof of the interest taken in his subject.

Tea was served by Mrs. Charles Moore and Mrs. Norbert Peterson from a table attractive with sweet pea decorations.

The next club meeting will be held March 6 at the home of Mrs. Edith Smith, with Mrs. Winger assisting and Mrs. W. R. Carlin in charge of the program.

Borough Teachers Association Has Enjoyable Party

Seventy members of the Warren Borough Teachers' Association gathered in the YWCA activities building last evening for a dinner party and evening of games.

H. D. Harris, principal of Beaty school, acted as master of ceremonies for an informal dinner program and Harry Summers, instrumental music director, led group singing.

Effie Paterson was in charge of decorations, assisted by Lauretta Dunkle and Elizabeth VanLuvane, and provided a very attractive setting of small cherry trees in blossom and a candlelight effect carried out in pink and green.

Mrs. Carl Hultberg was general chairman for the party and acted as hostess for the games which followed. Prizes were awarded as follows: Contract bridge, Edna Glasser and Mrs. Gerda Lawrence; auction bridge, Frances O'Neill and Mrs. Phyllis Stanley; five hundred, Mayme Marsh; other games, Mrs. A. F. Dunham, Miss VanLuvane and Mrs. Elizabeth Sheets.

Next social event on the group's calendar is the spring festival to be held some time the latter part of April.

The WAC understands HER duty—to her men in uniform, to her country, to herself.

Deep down inside, she knows the enormous satisfaction of being truly useful at a time of critical need.

The WAC spirit is a gallant spirit. The spirit of women who would rather be in the war than just sitting, waiting, wishing for it to end.

The WAC pride is an honest pride. In a job well done. In being part of the Army of the United States.

You really have to hand it to the women of the WAC . . .

Sheriff Linde, of Warren county, and a deputy were visitors in this city yesterday in a further checkup on the fire at the Jack

Scott farm east of Columbus in which Mr. and Mrs. Scott and their son, Dean, perished. The officers say that the version of the fatalities published at the time appears to have been correct and that it is believed that the father, long in ill health, took the lives of the mother and son and then suicided after setting fire to the home. The investigation was said to have been completed yesterday—Corry Journal.

Miss Grace Young has returned from a visit with her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Short, Northampton, Mass., and with friends in New York. At the latter place she visited Mrs. Ethel Hausman and daughter, Gloria, and Mrs. Elizabeth Naylor.

BY TOM WEST

YESTERDAY: Mike O'Shane comes upon Wacker's men stealing a herd of Turkey and Double O's and Viola Thornton orders her foreman and men to ride with the redhead. They succeed in getting back the cattle and breaking up Wacker's crew of cutthroats. Despite remaining doubts, the Turkey men at last begin to weaken on belief in O'Shane's guilt. As the redhead leaves them, he says "You ginks ain't heard the last of me yet."

Chapter 15

THE redhead leisurely jogged through the foothills back to his hideout. He reined up in a grassy glade, dotted with jack pines, to breathe his mount and roll a smoke. While the roan cropped grass, O'Shane shook the makin's into a paper. From habit, his alert eyes studied the trail. His interest quickened as he picked up the tracks of a shod horse, sliding out of leather, he examined them closely. They were fresh, imprinted distinctly upon the soft earth.

"He ain't rode through more than thirty minutes ago," muttered the redhead. "Now who in thunder might that be?"

ARRIVING at his camp without sight or sound of the intruder, he unsaddled and staked the roan close by. As the sun slanted westwards, he kept under cover. Instinct warned him that somewhere in the expanse of rock and brush around him an enemy lay concealed, silent and deadly, stalking him as stealthily as a cat stalks a bird.

In the gloom, O'Shane denuded a near-by mesquite of its branches and rolled them carefully in his saddle blanket. He placed the end of the ungainly roll against his saddle and dropped his Stetson on it. Then he removed his boots and placed them beside the saddle.

Satisfied, the redhead moved off into the shadows, stepping gingerly in his socks, squatted upon a boulder—and waited.

O'Shane figured an hour had time in several weeks due to hazardous driving. Dr. Prout will continue to fill his pulpit here from now on if at all possible. All are cordially invited.

A recent heavy snow has piled up more on the already deep drifts. Residents from this vicinity will welcome the spring as the ground has been covered with snow since November.

Ada Rhodes, widow of John Rhodes was laid to rest in the Garland Presbyterian cemetery on Sunday. The family were former Garland residents and have many friends here who extend sympathy to the family. Mrs. Rhodes died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. F. Boland of Youngsville.

Garland

A party was held in the Community Building Friday evening. A large crowd attended the festivities. Music was furnished by a Warren orchestra and all reported an unusually pleasant evening.

The Leofsky twins, Peter and Paul celebrated their fourteenth birthday on Thursday Feb. 15th.

The Willing Workers met Wednesday at the home of Mrs. Richard Dahlstrom. The occasion was Mrs. Dahlstrom's birthday and she was well remembered by the members who had planned a delightful surprise.

The local school observed Valentine's Day in the usual manner. All the kiddies receiving their share of Cupid's messages.

Mr. Frank Colbert is back at work following his serious illness. Services were held Sunday in the Presbyterian church for the first time in several weeks due to hazardous driving. Dr. Prout will continue to fill his pulpit here from now on if at all possible. All are cordially invited.

A recent heavy snow has piled up more on the already deep drifts. Residents from this vicinity will welcome the spring as the ground has been covered with snow since November.

Ada Rhodes, widow of John Rhodes was laid to rest in the Garland Presbyterian cemetery on Sunday. The family were former Garland residents and have many friends here who extend sympathy to the family. Mrs. Rhodes died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. F. Boland of Youngsville.

Norman Taylor was in Jamestown on business Thursday. The infant child of Mr. and Mrs. Lee has been taken to the Warren hospital.

The Agricultural Association held an interesting meeting this week in Garland Community Center. One pleasant feature was the slides shown which proved very interesting. There was a good attendance.

Roy Ellis of Newton has returned from the Cleveland clinic where he was under observation in an effort to regain his health. He is a brother of Mrs. Ed Williams of this place.

Labor Is Badly Needed on the West Coast

Our Army, waging a major campaign in the Philippines, must be kept supplied with thousands of tons of ammunition, trucks, guns and supplies if they expect to remain on the offensive. It is up to the American people to give their full support on the production line; to build, maintain and repair the hundreds of ships and thousands of planes that must be employed to land and support these armies. The demand for skilled and unskilled civilian labor at naval installations on the west coast is unprecedented, and as our invincible Navy swiftly and surely gains unchallenged command of the sea, we on the home front will be called upon in increasing numbers to back up that fighting Navy.

Representatives of the U. S. Civil Service Commission are stationed all over the country, easily accessible to interview those interested in immediate appointment as civilian workers at west coast navy yards. They are authorized to provide free transportation and meal tickets enroute to the place of duty and will arrange for housing in advance for the recruit and his family. There is a U. S. Civil Service Commission representative in Erie, Pennsylvania, stationed at USES, 502 Erie Trust Building. (You may contact any first and second class post office or United States Employment Service office for information on where to get in touch with your nearest Civil Service representative.) Those men not now engaged in essential war work of equal skill, and veterans, who are given preference in government employment, are urged to apply immediately.

Positions now open include mechanics, machinists, electricians and other trained workers to do vital jobs on warships being overhauled or repaired. Radiomen, as well as steel workers, sheet metal men, plumbers, steamfitters, painters and sandblasters and all allied skills easily adapt themselves to Navy Yard work. Helpers and laborers with little or no experience are as vital to the success of our future Pacific campaigns as skilled tradesmen.

Vacancies presently exist at the Puget Sound Navy Yard, Bremerton, Washington, Mare Island, Vallejo, California, U. S. Naval Drydocks, Hunters Point, San Francisco, Alameda Naval Air Station, Seattle Naval Air Station and Pocatello Naval Ordnance Depot.

Four quick steps brought him to the spot where the breed had lain. Flattened earth, sprinkled with sharp shale, showed the outline of his body. The tangled rope lay on the ground. In one place it had been frayed through.

"Of all the slippery skunks!" swore O'Shane, searching nastily for the breed's gun belt. That was missing, too.

ODT Gives OK For Men For Transportation

Information on manpower problems relating to personnel employed or needed by commercial motor vehicle operators is available through district and field offices of the Office of Defense Transportation, Earl J. Donor, District Manager of the ODT at Erie, today released truck, bus, local transit, taxicab and vehicle maintenance establishments.

Pointing out that manpower shortages are seriously affecting highway transportation Mr. Donor stated that digests of recent regulations issued by Selective Service and the War Manpower Commission are being made available to ODT regional, district and field offices for the assistance of various motor transport operators.

The digests include the most recent information on the classification of Highway Transport Industries and activities considered critical, essential locally needed or less essential and explain the effect of these classifications on occupational deferments and personnel recruitment.

Eagles Upset By Sheffield Quint, 41-30

Sheffield High School's Wolverines cagers turned in an upset victory over the Youngville Eagles last night on the Sheffield court, 41-30. The Bob Jewell crew failed to make good in the shooting department as the Wolverines outscored the Eagles in each period except the third.

Trubie and Eisenhauer were the big guns for the winners, Trubie dumping in five field goals and an equal number of fouls to total 15, while Eisenhauer dropped in a total of 12. For the Eagles, Smith and Welsh turned in 11 and 9 points, respectively.

The Sheffield quint carried an 11-7 lead at the first period mark and at halftime, held a 20-13 margin. The third stanza was nip-and-tuck, with both crews managing 7 markers apiece, but the Wolverines bounced ahead in the final period to outscore the Eagles 14-10. The Youngville aggregation defeated the Sheffield bunch by a 2-point margin earlier in the season on their own court.

Ex-Pitcher Praised In Farm System

Miami, Fla., Feb. 21.—(P)—If Carl Hubbell wins a place in baseball history as a farm executive as well as a great pitcher, Eddie Brannick can—and probably will—say "I told you so."

The New York Giants' secretary sounded some words of praise today for the left-hander who became head of the club's farm system after his hurling days were over.

"He'll do as good a job as Branch Rickey or any of them have done," Brannick predicted. "He's going to be a big man. The fellow's got plenty of ability."

Brannick said that Horace Stoneham, Giants' president, is well satisfied with Hubbell's work.

"He's just the type of man that Mel Ott needed," the fast-talking secretary continued. "You know that he and Ott are very close friends, and were always together even before Mel became manager."

Evidence Of Dishonesty Not Revealed

By TED MEIER

New York, Feb. 21.—(P)—No evidence of dishonesty or corrupt dealings has been found in college basketball games played at Madison Square Garden, the department of investigation reported yesterday.

Commissioner Edgar Bromberg, who began a probe after the Brooklyn College gambling scandal broke on Jan. 29, asserted "although there have been vague rumors and intimations (of corruption) during each season that intercollegiate basketball has been established at Madison Square Garden x x x there is no evidence of any dishonesty culpable irregularity or corrupt dealings in the negotiations between the Garden corporation and City College of New York and Brooklyn College, or in the conduct of the games themselves or in the financial transactions resulting therefrom."

The 40-page interim report to Mayor Fiorello La Guardia declared that the "officials in charge of the games are according to unanimous opinion, of high character and incorruptible conduct."

Bromberg said "two instances of apparent attempted corruption of players" were disclosed in the testimony.

Investigation Of Game Commission Asked By Senator

Harrisburg, Feb. 21.—(P)—A senate investigation of the state game commission is sought by Senators George B. Stevenson (R-Clinton) and James S. Berger (R-Potter).

They offered a resolution calling for a report by March 12, after presenting a complaint by the North-Central Division of Sportsmen's Clubs against the commission's declaration of an antlerless deer season in 1943. The complaint asserted the open season was protested by sportsmen but that the commission rejected the protest.

Baseball Men Confer With Jimmy Byrnes

By BUS HAM

Washington, Feb. 21.—(P)—Baseball's representatives look-in to the transportation situation today following an apparently satisfactory conference on manpower with War Mobilizer Byrnes.

Ford Frick and Will Harridge, major leagues' presidents, will end their official business here in a talk with Col. J. Monroe Johnson, office of defense transportation director.

With spring training starting early next month, the two problems—manpower and transportation—are considered the sport's most pressing.

Frick and Harridge had little to say after a discussion with Byrnes.

They told reporters that "we merely laid our problems before him" in facts and figures.

Frick later added that "we talked manpower on a broad scale."

Bishop Continues To Lead League

New York, Feb. 21.—(P)—Gale Bishop of the Fort Lewis (Wash.) Warriors went on a 127-point scoring spree in five games last week to take a commanding lead of 305 points in the high scoring race among the nation's service basketball quintets.

Competing in the Ninth Service Command's Northwest District tournament, Bishop tossed in 54 field goals and 19 fouls for his week's mark. Altogether he now has tallied 828 points in 34 games on 347 field goals and 134 charity throws.

In eighth place was Stan Skulski of the Army's General Hospital at Valley Forge. In 29 games he scored 193 field goals and 45 free throws for a total of 431 points.

Behind the Lines

Last Saturday night, two of the best officials in the section handled the Warren-Corry encounter, and one of them was a minister.

Burns and Reverend Abe officiated the engagement, and very capably. After the game, Preacher Abe added that it was his fifth game of the week, just bringing to mind the serious shortage of good refs.

Jamestown High School's cage crew now holds but a half-game lead over the Dunkirk quint, which toppled the Red and Green last Friday in an overtime affair, 31-49.

They have yet to play Silver Creek and Fredonia in the Lake Shore League, along with the Bradford Owl's next Monday night. This time the story will be different. No victory for the Bracemen.

Speaking of Harold Brace, the Owl mentor, he had a tough time of it last Saturday night when Erie Academy raced to an early first period lead of 9 to 1.

Youngville's cage quint had what basketball-minded men call an "off-night" when they bucked up against L. O. Eisenhauer's aggregation at Sheffield last evening.

If Warren succeeds in knocking off Franklin Friday night and Oil City Tuesday night to cop the Section Two laurels, the Massa-coached five will face the Sharpesville quint, winners of Section 3, probably on the Farrell hardwood.

For the past few years, Warren teams have had to make the trip to Farrell, a distance of some 60 miles, while the opponent found it necessary to travel but 2 or three miles. But it hasn't done any good, whatsoever, to do any barking about the matter. There seems to be a matter of money connected. Should the Blue and White emerge the victor in the Warren-Sharpesville clash, if they win Section Two, they would meet the winner of the Erie Tech-Millcreek fray. This game may possibly be played at Corry.

L. O. Eisenhauer's aggregation at Sheffield, however, has been awarded the Silver Star for his part in a bombing raid on Romanian oil fields last July.

He was later interned in that country after being shot down and was released when the Russians took over.

Fred "Red" Geisler has recently been re-elected president of the Erie County Sportsmen's League.

Ross L. Leffler, president of the Pennsylvania State Games Commission, has let it be known that the game commissioners are not advocating consolidation of the fish and game departments, but at the same time said that he is not opposing it.

One of the most stubborn New York Yankee players to be signed this year is expected to be George "Stuffy" Stirnweiss, who had a great season at second base last season. With stomach ulcers it is doubtful that he will be plucked off by Uncle Sam.

SPORTS ROUND-UP

My HUGH FULLERTON, JR.

New York, Feb. 21.—(P)—At least two college basketball teams that played in the Boston Garden this winter hinted that they'd like to return for a March tournament, but no dates were available, what with two schoolboy tournaments coming up. . . . Chances they'll be starting one in another year or so—and maybe its just as well that no plans were made for 1945, since there seems to be a shortage of tournament-qualified teams. . . . Utah, N. C. A. A. winner last spring, has the real puzzle in the cage tourney setup. . . . The Utes expect to qualify for the national playoffs again and feel they owe something to the N. C. A. A. for picking them as pinch-hitters last year. But they feel they also may get a bid to the New York invitation event, which is more lucrative.

Home At Bear Lake Burns To Foundation

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Whiteley at Bear Lake was completely destroyed by fire about three o'clock Monday afternoon.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Whiteley are understood to have been at their work in the plant of the Aero Supply Mfg. Co. in Corry when the fire was discovered by neighbors.

Bear Lake is without phone service but a call was sent in from the nearest farm house that could be reached and the owners of the property left Corry at once. Calls were also sent to Panama and Sugar Grove and the fire departments of both of those towns responded but the run required such a long period that the home was completely destroyed by the time the equipment had arrived.

Neighbors had succeeded, however, in carrying most of the furniture, with the exception of a small amount on the second floor, from the burning home. No wind prevailed at the time and no other buildings in the village were endangered.

JULIA AUGUSTA CROUCH

(Contributed)

Mrs. Julia Augusta Crouch passed away at her home in Willow Creek Friday, evening, February ninth, at seven twenty-five o'clock, after a ten days' illness, following a heart attack.

Mrs. Crouch was born in Newton, Warren county, on May 9th, 1861, the daughter of Levi Pierce and Augusta Main Pierce, who were pioneer settlers of Eldred township, Warren county.

She was of a large family, the following having preceded her in death: Albert Broughton, Jerry Pierce, Ellen Almira, Luther Avery, and Levi.

At an early age she moved to Garland, Pa., where she attended the Garland schools.

She was a brilliant student, and apt in writing poetry and essays. She resided in Garland until her marriage to Emory DeWitt Crouch of Douglass, Pittsfield township, when they moved to Sanford Hill, and later to Douglass.

Her husband's lumbering activities brought her into McKean county, where she has since lived, for the past forty-six years.

Having been reared in Christian homes, themselves, where Christian principles and tolerance were taught, Mr. and Mrs. Crouch established in their own home the same piety.

Mrs. Crouch was a devoted wife and mother, and her refinement and charming personality endeared her to all who were privileged to know her.

She was energetic and unselfish, her hands always outstretched in assisting others.

Mrs. Crouch had an optimistic outlook on life and ever believed in an eternal life beyond, with her loved ones and her Savior.

One of her favorite Bible verses was "Set your affection on things above, not on things on the earth."

She will long be remembered by her relatives and friends for her consideration and kindness to all with whom she came in contact.

Those left to mourn her loss are three daughters, Miss Eva V. Crouch, at home; Mrs. William J. McDermott of Willow Creek, and Mrs. Edith A. Houghwot of Pomona, Calif., and one son, Earl DeWitt Crouch, Amarillo, Tex.; one grandson, Earl DeWitt Crouch, Jr., and four granddaughters, Margaret Radspinner, Los Angeles, Calif.; Harriett Houghwot, Buffalo, N. Y.; Jo Anne Crouch, Amarillo, Tex.; Geraldine Crouch, Chicago, Ill.; one sister, Mrs. Lucetta Rosen, Jamestown, N. Y., and one brother, L. Jackson Pierce, Youngsville; also four nephews, Carl Rosen, Erie; Hugh Pierce, Shawnee, Okla.; Harold Pierce,

Stray Leaves From Notebook Of Reporter About Town

Gene Wald father of the Good Roads movement in this county dropped into the office yesterday and while here informed us that once upon a time Horace Greely spoke here. It was in September 1872 when Greely was a candidate for President. He spoke from the top of the portico of the Carver House amid a drizzle of rain.

Louie Greigich a small boy at the time held an umbrella over the candidate to protect him from the rain and when Greely had finished he slipped Louie a quarter and gave him the famous bit of Greeley advice "Go west, young man."

Gracious sakes yesterday we killed Sam Allen when writing about him once taking part in a home talent play. Sam is still very much alive and one of the successful big business men of the county. It was a heck of a way to repay a man who slipped a fellow a good many news scoops during the World War when Sam was attorney for the U. S. Purchasing agencies.... The late James Brann was a pioneer in Pennsylvania oil development drilling his first well in Warren county in 1883. As the industry spread west he followed it and he held oil interests in Indiana, Illinois and Kansas in addition to Oklahoma and Pennsylvania. He was president of the Rine Drilling Company. He completed his first Oklahoma well on Thanksgiving day 1905 at Cleveland, Oklahoma.

In Pennsylvania alone there are 26,985 able-bodied men of military draft age holding down federal government jobs. They are deferred from military service. These figures are from Selective Service Director Lewis B. Hershey. He gave them out last week. A total of over 350,000 federal jobholders between 18 and 38 are being deferred. Your boy or your husband has to go.

"Emmy" Metzger who has discovered a formula that makes folks dig up their delinquent taxes—an' by the way Emmy did us over try St. Mary's? They tell us the over there married women refuse to pay any personal taxes unless they are working and they get away with it—much to the pleasure of his pocketbook writes as follows:

Dear Clare:
The Stray Leaves column is

C. Eldridge, Erie; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Cramer, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Long, Mrs. W. A. Brown, Mr. and Mrs. Nell Rhoades, Warren; Mrs. Kenneth Pattison, Mr. and Mrs. James Littlefield, Bradford; Mrs. Walter Campbell, Titusville; Mrs. Louise Spiesman, Mrs. Wilbur Jordan, Miss Dorothy Litton, Corry; J. D. Upton, Richard Halter, Mrs. Vera Long, Harry Long and Mrs. Peter Carlson, Garland.

Ada Skinner Rhoades, widow of John Rhoades, was born June 3, 1865, at Clarence, Iowa. She was the daughter of Nancy Hosmer and Hubbard Skinner and granddaughter of Mary McCrary and Stephen Hosmer, pioneer settlers near Garland. Most of her life had been spent near Garland until seven years ago, when she went to Youngsville to live with her daughters, Mrs. Maude Long and Mrs. Mabel Boland.

read religiously by yours truly, and before I go any further, I want it distinctly understood that I am NOT an old timer, I am still a boy, b—u—t there are a lot of old time things and events in that column that I seem to remember. And they make it much more interesting to me than the current news.

I sincerely hope that the column continues, that you do not run out of things to talk about. In case you run into one of those days when nothing seems to come out of the old think bag, take a run up to the Style Shop and get Gibby Johnson to reminiscing about the old Columbian A. C. Of course you've mentioned it before, but he could fill a column for you. And as I remember, Gibby did quite a bit of boxing there himself.

Carl Rogers, who has been round here for some days stopped us yesterday and said he had read in The Leaves where we couldn't think of the name of the colored man who at one time worked for Judge Rassell Brown. Carl knew the colored man and said his name was George Washington Sweeney. Whatever his name he could concoct just about the best clam chowder and fish chowder that ever was served at a Judge's table.... Walter Ward before he became county commissioner and later superintendent of the Rouse Hospital had a milk route in Warren and dealt the milk out of big cans with a scooperno.... Remember the big White steamer that Charley Knabb used to have. How it possessed unlimited power but had a bad habit of exploding once in a while.... Levi Smith had one too, and its chugging down Market street was the signal for all Ma's to shoo their progeny indoors....

Bet you were taken by your Pa to the theatre to see Lyman Howie's travel pictures. In the earlier days slides were shown and later movies constituted the program. Lyman is still showing them and currently a series is being run in Pittsburgh. Folks learned a lot about foreign countries that way. 'Nother fellow by the name of Hadley showed 'em, too.

"Emmy" also wrote:—"Last week the Boy Scouts celebrated their 35th Anniversary. Did you know that two of the first patrols in this country were in Warren? The Bald Eagles and the Rattlesnakes (I was a Rattlesnake—and none of your cracks that I still am) were organized and led by Roy MacGowan, and the Warren boys of those two patrols, most of whom are still living, have the honor of being in the first 1000 Scouts in this country." Incidentally Roy taught Latin in high school in those days, and he always tipped off his students when he was going to give a test by wearing a red necktie that day. When he came in in the morning with a red tie how the boys and gals did brush up before they went to class!"

Mr. Berger—If this winter of daily continued snow fall was back in those horse and cutter days and time where bigger and better bobsleds were every lad's prized possession, there would be every night after school a coasting jamboree. The automobiles did away with this pleasure of which we have thought, so it just can't be done now. Sad but so.

Of these elongated sleds, whether home-made or from the factory with side runs to which the girls could cling, the merit was in runners and their surface speed. Would not, during such a winter, Old Bunker Hill have echoed and re-echoed with hearty laughter, merry chatter of youthful crowds interspersed perhaps with some screams, for the round those mountain-side curves without mishap required skilled steersmen. Many a spill can be remembered by those who participated in the sport. If, of course, was no use to go along, unless you were willing to walk up the hill again and again and probably help draw the sleds.

But in those happy, sturdy, care-free days the way did not seem long. The exertion warmed our
